RUSSIA JUNKS NEUTRALITY PACT

MAJORITY IS LARGEST IN HISTORY

$611,000 Issue to Save
Large Sum Through
Lower Interest

Santa Ana yesterday gave its approval to a $611,000 school bond issue by a majority which probably was the largest in the city's history.

The bonds carried by a majority of more than eight to one. Only a two-thirds majority was required. A vote of 7.8 per cent was cast. There are approximately 18,000 voters in the district.

The purpose of the new bonds is to retire a Greene bill loan for repairing earthquake-damaged buildings, and refinancing at a lower rate of interest. The loan bears 4.4 per cent interest. School authorities hope to sell the new bonds at 2.4 to 3.4 per cent interest. This will result in a saving to the taxpayers of $48,000 to $130,000.

Two Propositions
On the ballot yesterday there appeared two propositions upon which to vote, one relating to elementary school loans and the other to high school loans. Each proposition carried overwhelmingly. The high school issue carried by a vote of 1260 to 151, while the elementary issue carried by a vote of 1251 to 146.

There were 12 consolidated precincts.

NAB DRIVER IN FATAL CRASH

An alert mechanic here today caused arrest of an alleged hit-and-run driver whose car killed a woman pedestrian in Long Beach.

Paul Bertram Moore, 24, Long Beach, was held by police there today following his arrest here early this morning on manslaughter charges, two hours after a car answering the same description as his, had struck and fatally injured a pedestrian, Mrs. Vivian I. Ruston, 29.

Jack Fredericks, employee of the Murphy garage, telephoned the police station at 12:30 a. m. today, saying a driver had come in for repairs to a headlight, which he said had been damaged in a collision with another car.

Officer Ralph Pantuso, given the license number and description of the car, notified the station. Just then a call from Long Beach police notified the local department that the car had been involved in an accident there in which Mrs. Ruston had been fatally injured.

Police arrested Moore, who later admitted his car had struck a pedestrian at Sixteenth and Pine streets, Long Beach. Mrs. Ruston died an hour after the crash in the emergency hospital there.

Grand Jury to Probe Five Year Old Fire Murder

Canoe Honeymooners Home

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Lamb, Santa Ana, ended a three-year honeymoon spent in an adventurous argosy on the southern seas this week, when they landed from a Japanese freighter at San Pedro. They are shown with their 16-foot canoe, traveling equipment, and two knives they acquired on their trip along the Western coast of the Americas, just after landing. (Associated Press photo.)

SAN QUENTIN INMATE MAY BE TRIED

Report Convict Admits
Cremating G. Walker
Here in 1931

Glancing out of his window at midnight, Nov. 19, 1931, W. M. Armstrong of Olinda saw flames and smoke from the nearby hills. He called the Brea fire department.

An hour later a saddle shed on the Arthur G. Keene ranch in Carbon canyon was totally destroyed. Firemen going into the debris found the body of a man, partially destroyed, in the ashes. His skull had been crushed.

As the coroner and sheriff were investigating the scene of the blaze, three Los Angeles police officers arrived.

"Did you find the body of a man in that fire?" they asked. "We've got a fellow in the Los Angeles jail that's confessed to a murder here."

The man who confessed was Gilbert F. Collie, alias Frank Collie, alias Bert Hart, alias Burt Healy, alias Tom Healy.

When the Orange county grand jury convenes next week one of the first cases it will be called upon to judge will be that of the murder of George Myron Walker in Carbon canyon five years ago, although Collie, who admitted the crime, is serving a life sentence in San Quentin for a murder committed in San Bernardino county. Collie was arrested by Los Angeles police on Nov. 20, 1931, for questioning about the disappearance of a woman.

MURDER COUNT FILED TODAY

Returned here from Martinez on a 3-year-old warrant for a 7-year-old murder, Jesus Esquivile, 36, was arraigned in justice court here today for the murder of Salvador Lopez, 29, in a gun fight in April, 1929.

Esquivile was arrested there early this week on charges of operating an illegal still. A comparison of fingerprint records showed him to be the man wanted for the Lopez killing, and Assistant Police Chief Harry Fink and Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvey returned here with him last night.

Preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 10, and the prisoner was ordered held without bail.

Tomorrow the proceedings will be concluded with the drawing of 10 residual prizes and the $500 consolation cash prizes.

U. S. Ticket Holders

The ticket holders on Dan Bulger, each of whom has the best chance of winning one of the $150,000 first prizes, were: "Crane," Quincy, Mass.; "North," North Bend, Ohio; "West," Philadelphia; James Short, Portage, Penn.; Margaret Cunner, Brooklyn; Hooker, Durham, N. C.; Ten Girls, Edgewater, N. J.; Nickan Company, 1349 Hayes St., San Francisco; William Schriber, Syracuse, N. Y.

Noble King, ranking with Harina as the second favorite, had nine American ticket holders, including Louis Prupis, 5737 Sunset boulevard, Los Angeles.

Defer Hearing of Escaped Prisoner

Add to the crypt of cryptic remarks this excerpt from the minutes of the court clerk in department two of the superior court. "People versus Warren Marr. Defendant not in court. Case continued to Nov. 6."

Marr, alleged confidence man, outwitted a deputy sheriff Thursday in Pasadena, made his escape through an old ruse. He was to have answered today to an indictment charging him with bilking five aged county residents of $10,000 in savings.

Mission Swallows 'Scram'

'Allo, Bill' of Radio Man Helps 'Em Along

By BOB GUILD

The swallows have left San Juan Capistrano mission.

Their's was no orderly departure. Just an enthusiastic sort of scramble to be gone. Before daylight had fully come over the hills the birds were away, and inside of an hour the sparrows and swifts were back and picking out their winter homes.

The swallows have been doing this since the mission was built in 1776. Since 1934 the National Broadcasting company has given them a send off over the ether waves, but the pesky birds disappointed the radio people today.

They weren't there when the sound truck arrived. An aimless butterfly was there, flitting about under the eaves, where the swallows' wattle nests gaped without occupants. A vociferous army of sparrows chattered from high up on the walls of the old building.

"Fah," said Father Arthur Hutchinson. "These twentieth century birds have no feeling for tradition."

A chorus of little Mexican children filed in, under charge of a brown-robed sister.

"Allo, Bill," a radio engineer said, and went into his ritual.

"Allo, Bill. Allo, allo, allo. Can you hear me?" A telegraph key chattered, and a bell tolled from the mission wall, where it was being tested for sound.

"Waa," said the radio engineer. "Waa, 28. Waa, 27. Waa, waa, waa, waa 30. There it is, Bill. Waa, 30. Allo, Bill. Allo, allo, Bill. Waa, 30. Testing for sound level, Bill. Waa."

Then the little Mexican choir sang. One happy song, and one sad song. Father Hutchinson told the story of the swallows, how they came to the mission on March 19, how they left on Oct. 23.

Jose Doran, one of the few remaining Mission chanters, chanted.

The organ played "La Golondrina."

"God," said Father Hutchinson, "works in divers ways his wonders to perform."

The bell tolled again.

"Allo, Bill," the radio engineer said. "I guess I'll wrap it up and come home."

The choir knelt and went into the old church for mass. Most everyone else went to see the goldfish in the patio pond.

The swallows were gone again.

LANDON ASKS DEMOCRATS' SUPPORT

G. O. P. Nominee Praises

Bourbon Leaders Who Bolted Roosevelt

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Gov. Alf. M. Landon told Oklahomans today that the New Deal has "deserted" Democratic party principles and violated "its oath to support and uphold the constitution."

Introduced by Murray
The Kansas spoke in the Coliseum after an introduction by William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, former Democratic governor of Oklahoma.

Pausing here nearly four hours on his final transcontinental campaign trip, Landon said Murray, by introducing the Republican candidate, was "severing political friendships" and opening himself to political penalties.

"Only a threat to our form of government itself could cause a man like Governor Murray to take this step," Landon said, naming John W. Davis, Alfred E. Smith, Bainbridge Colby, Joseph E. Ely, James A. Reed and Lewis W. Douglas as other Democrats "who are putting their country above party name."

Sees Break at Polls
"Countless other Democrats feel as strongly as they do," he continued. They may have made no open break, but they will state their position emphatically at the ballot boxes next month. Their feelings are strong enough to make them rise above the party name even though it means breaking political habits of a life-time.

"When they go to the polls they will not alone be protesting the attempt made by this administration to change the fundamental principles of our American government. They will be rejecting a man who has attempted this change without a mandate from either the citizens of this country or his own party convention."

"On Nov. 3," he continued, "I am perfectly satisfied that millions and millions of Jeffersonian Democrats—Democrats who believe in the fundamental principles of the Democratic party, who regard it as their political byword, Democrats who believe in the 1932 platform and want it enforced—will go to the polls and so cast their votes as to let the New Deal play football, while a different administration will give a sane, orderly, sensible, comprehensive administration under Governor Landon of Kansas."

Smith said he was speaking against the New Deal because he believed he was "actually helping to save the Democratic party."

Directors of Food Machinery corporation will meet in San Jose Monday to decide on disposition of its plant here and two in Riverside, according to word received here today.

Factory sites in Los Angeles have been examined by company heads, it was said. Meanwhile the company is said to be considering consolidating the three plants here or in Riverside.

Paxton Nailing Machine company here recently was taken over by Food Machinery.

Punch Receiver

The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith (above) was attacked by three unidentified men in a New Orleans radio studio last night just after he had delivered an address assailing Gov. Richard LaRoche for "betraying" the late Senator Huey Long. One of the trio swung on Smith, hitting him on the chest. Smith's companions jumped to his defense and a free-for-all followed. The intruders, seeing they were getting the worst of it, fled. (Associated Press Photo.)

AL PICTURES PARTY BOLT

CHICAGO, (AP)—Alfred E. Smith, former Democratic candidate for president, turned toward Pittsburgh today to continue his attacks on the New Deal after declaring he was satisfied "millions and millions of Jeffersonian Democrats" would vote for Gov. Alf. M. Landon on Nov. 3. He speaks in Pittsburgh Saturday night.

In his speech last night, the third he has made against the Roosevelt administration since the first of the month, he said the Jeffersonian Democrats "are out on a limb today, holding the bag, driven out of the party, because some new bunch that nobody ever heard of in their life before came in and took charge of things and started planning everything."

"On Nov. 3," he continued, "I am perfectly satisfied that millions and millions of Jeffersonian Democrats—Democrats who believe in the fundamental principles of the Democratic party, who regard it as their political byword, Democrats who believe in the 1932 platform and want it enforced—will go to the polls and so cast their votes as to let the New Deal play football, while a different administration will give a sane, orderly, sensible, comprehensive administration under Governor Landon of Kansas."

REBEL PLANES SWOOP OVER CAPITAL

Women Are Terrified;
Fliers Pepper Part of City With Guns

MADRID, (AP)—Machine-gunning Fascist airplanes, in their first daytime raids on Madrid, swooped over the capital four times today while terrified women ran through the streets.

Anti-aircraft guns kept up an incessant roar from the rooftops of the besieged city. The damage, however, was stated to be negligible and government leaders believed the repeated raids were intended merely to demoralize Madrid.

No attempt was made to bomb the city, but one fighting plane sprayed the brick walls of Montana barracks with machine-gun fire.

The first visit was at 8:30 a. m., when two bombers circled high over the city, dropping leaflets demanding surrender of the capital. The bombers then flew to the outskirts of Madrid, where they were joined by several pursuit planes.

Droning low over Cuatro Vientos airport on the edge of the capital, the planes dropped several small bombs.

The second visit was at 10:15

FIVE SKELETONS ARE DUG UP

Those Indians should have known better. Every time a sewer is dug in the county lately, a new skeleton is uncovered.

Today workmen excavating for a sewer line in Laguna Beach dug into another ancient Indian burial ground. Five skeletons were uncovered.

Deputy Coroner Bert Castele and County Treasurer Bert Castele, an authority on early Orange county history, hurried to the spot to make an investigation.

Age of the bones had not definitely been determined at noon.

Who'll Win Tomorrow?

Football fans the U. S. A. over are mumbling this question to themselves and even quizzing the neighbors next door. It is the paramount issue of the day—even more engrossing, for a few hours, than the presidential race. No doubt you have already picked your winners, but probably you'll be interested in seeing what Herbert Barker, noted AP sports sage, forecasts. Football fans can find Barker's crystal gazing efforts on today's sports page. Exclusively in The Journal—Orange county's most interesting newspaper. See page 8.

DEFEND RIGHT OF ARMING SPANISH

Soviet Stand Is Told
At Non-Intervention
Meet in London

MOSCOW, (AP)—Soviet Russia tonight announced her virtual withdrawal from the "European hands-off-Spain" agreement, declaring she could not consider herself bound to a greater extent than the other participants.

Russia has contended she has definite proof three other participants in the agreement, Italy, Germany and Portugal, have aided Spain's insurgents with war materials.

"Torn Scrap of Paper"

Her announcement came while the non-intervention committee, in London, was in the midst of a secret session to consider charges and counter charges of neutrality breaches.

A communication handed to Lord Plymouth, British chairman of the neutrality group, by Ivan M. Maisky, the Soviet ambassador to London, stated the neutrality agreement had become a torn up scrap of paper.

It asserted other governments must have the right to supply arms to the constituted government of Spain, and that the Spanish government must have a right to purchase arms abroad.

Vaguely Phrased

Ambassador Maisky's communication was vaguely phrased. It was, therefore, not immediately clear as to Russia's exact intentions.

Competent observers, however, believed the Soviets had taken unto themselves the right to supply arms to Madrid.

The Maisky document was a bitter denunciation of alleged Fascist violations of the agreement which, the Russian diplomat said, had prolonged the Spanish war and cost many lives.

PALO ALTO GRID RALLY IS RIOT

PALO ALTO, (AP)—Two freshmen students of Stanford University faced charges of malicious mischief and disturbing the peace today after a wild demonstration following the rally preceding the Stanford-University of Southern California football game.

Allen Kittel of Beverly Hills, Cal., and Robert Thallon, Denver, Colo., were jailed by police after more than 300 first-year students attempted to gain free admission at the Stanford and Varsity theaters last night.

Tear gas was released by officers in attempting to drive the students away, and the freshmen replied with a barrage of overripe tomatoes and eggs. The Varsity theater management said $300 damage was caused at the playhouse when students smashed doors and the front of the building.

Downey Bank Sold To Transamerica

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The Transamerica corporation announced today the purchase of the First National Bank of Downey. A. P. Giannini, chairman of Transamerica's board, announced the Downey bank will be merged into the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association. The Downey bank has a capital of $25,000 and resources of $254,000.

RELIEF HEADS GATHER FOR CONCLAVE

100 Welfare Directors Of Six Counties in Local Session

More than 100 county welfare directors and workers from six southern counties met in the city hall here today for an instruction and discussion session with officials of the state department of public welfare.

Col. O. C. Wynman, member of the department, and federal director of old age security of California, was in charge of the meetings. Mrs. Florence Turner, director of the department, was unable to attend because of illness.

Without formality or speeches, other than a short address of welcome from William C. Jerome, supervisor from the first district, the group sat down in a series of conferences, with department heads answering questions for county welfare workers.

Panel directors were Mrs. Mollie C. Ford, chief accounting officer; Mrs. Olive Henderson, chief of the division of old age assistance; Miss Miley Pope, chairman of the children's aid division; Mrs. E. Clair Overholzer, chief of the division of blind aid; F. V. Schwitzer, chief of the statistics and research division; and C. A. Herbage, department coordinator.

Following a luncheon at the Green Cat cafe, where they were entertained by Russell Thompson's Hawaiians, the group was to continue in study sessions this afternoon.

Paper Sued By Advertising Firm

Charging that $71.08 due for purchase of an advertising service is unpaid, the Meyer Both company of Chicago today had started suit against Lotus H. Loudon, Robert W. Ramsey, Clarence H. Powell and the Santa Ana Bulletin and the Anaheim Bulletin.

The suit, on file in Santa Ana justice court, names the Appling Collection company of Santa Ana as assignor. It charges the defendants ordered the service March 16, 1935, and asks $71.08 plus interest and court costs.

Accused of Taking Employer's Auto

Accused of stealing a car belonging to his employer, Oscar Rosenbaum, San Juan Capistrano rancher, last Oct. 3, Bob Barnes, ranch hand, will go on trial Nov. 16, before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

Barnes is accused of stealing the car, and later wrecking it in Tustin. Fred Johnston, San Juan Capistrano, is defending him.

ance and suspected murder of Gale Slater, a San Bernardino man. Detectives grilled Collie for hours with no result.

Suddenly, as they were about to abandon the attempt, Collie spoke. "Give me a piece of paper and a pencil," he said, "and I'll give you a surprise."

He took the paper and drew a diagram of Carbon canyon, indicating the Arthur Keene ranch, and the tool shed.

"I killed a man there last night," he said, "and burned him up. Maybe you can find him."

Collie claimed Walker had threatened to "cut him down to his size with a knife," and that he had slugged Walker with a club, dragged him into the shack, and fired it. An autopsy revealed Walker had been alive when the flames reached him.

When they questioned Collie and examined him at the Los Angeles jail, they found in his possession Walker's car key, registration papers, driver's license and a pawn ticket.

On Collie's key ring were ignition keys to 27 other automobiles.

Find Skeleton
Later Collie admitted the Slater killing, and drew a diagram which led police to a spot in the mountains above San Bernardino, where they found Slater's skeleton, also burned, and with his skull also crushed.

Because the San Bernardino crime antedated the Carbon canyon killing, Collie was tried for murder in San Bernardino, and sentenced to hang, on Jan. 12, 1932.

Nine months later prison doctors declared him insane, and sent him to the state hospital at Menlo Park. On June 23, 1933, doctors there decided he was sane, and he was returned to San Quentin prison.

Noose Hovers Again
On Jan. 14, 1934, Collie escaped, and was recaptured two days later, and sentenced again to hang. One day later Governor Rolph commuted his sentence to life imprisonment.

So now, if the Orange county grand jury returns a first degree murder indictment against him, he will be returned to Orange county to stand trial, with the possibility that he again will be sentenced to hang for murder.

Once before Collie was in the toils of the law in Orange county. In 1930 he was charged with grand theft here, and jumped his bail. Local police officers never saw him again until the day after the murder of George Walker.

Demonstrates How To Find Jobs
Showing members of the Y. M. C. A. job-finding class just how to go about it, H. F. Finney, placement officer for Los Angeles county welfare, last night gave a practical demonstration of job-finding to the class. H. B. McAfee, assistant personal director of the Metropolitan water district, assisted.

The class in job-finding, conducted under the adult education department auspices, is held each Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A., at 7 o'clock. J. Gustav White, instructor, will tell the class some realistic stories of how men found themselves, in the next week's session.

ADMITTS CHECK CHARGE
J. Diharce, charged with passing a $5 bogus check, today entered a plea of guilty to the charge before Superior Judge James L. Allen, and made an oral plea for probation. His hearing was set for Oct. 30.

MAHAN'S PAL NABBED BY 'G-MEN'

WASHINGTON, (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, announced today the arrest by his agents of Edward Fliss, described by Hoover as a former associate of William Dainard, kidnaper of 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser.

Fliss was captured by federal agents in San Francisco late last night, Hoover said, after a prolonged search.

Hoover said Fliss, wanted for questioning in connection with the location of part of the Weyerhaeuser ransom money not yet recovered, admitted to G-men he had accompanied Dainard, alias William Mahan, through the West while Dainard was a fugitive. He also admitted, Hoover asserted, assisting Dainard in exchanging portions of the Weyerhaeuser ransom money for "good" money.

Mahan, serving life at Alcatraz penitentiary for the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping, recently was transferred to the federal hospital for mental cases at Springfield, Mo.

Justice department files disclosed that Fliss, alias "Red" Lane, was sentenced in 1929 to serve from 1 1/2 to 25 years at the Idaho state prison for kidnaping and robbery.

FOUR FRESHMEN SEEK OFFICE

Santa Ana Junior college freshmen today had nominated four men for president of the class and seven others for other class officers.

Primary elections will be conducted Wednesday, Oct. 28, and final elections on Monday, Nov. 2. It was stated by Vic Rowland, student body president, who is in charge of the elections.

Nomination was by petition, with noon today the deadline. In addition to those nominated, another candidate had a petition which he did not file, and two nominees were declared ineligible because they did not have a "C" average in grades.

Following are the nominees:
For president: Dick Phillips, Bob Wilde, Al Pickhardt and Don Randall.
For vice president: Bob Paul, Ralph Fuller and Bill Keeton.
For secretary: Marian Baxter and LaVonne Franson.
For treasurer: Harry Miles and Edward Velrade.

Prefers Jail to Living in Mexico

Carlos Canas, Delhi, today decided to spend 60 days in the county jail in preference to returning to Mexico for violation of his probation.

Last week Canas was offered his choice by Superior Judge James L. Allen of the jail sentence or voluntary return to the country of his birth.

He had been granted probation following his conviction on simple assault charges a year ago.

SRA Relief Load In Steady Climb

SRA today has a caseload of 758 persons or families receiving relief, a gain of 50 over a week ago and a new high for this season.

Terrence Halloran, SRA manager for the county, reported there were 225 applications for relief in the week, as compared with 225 last week.

"The load is rapidly approaching the peak of last year, when in the week ending Nov. 21 we had 372 applications," Halloran said.

Judge Goes Easy On Baby-slayer
NEW YORK, (AP)—Elizabeth Smith, 18-year-old unwed mother convicted of killing her new-born son by throwing him off the roof of a Bronx apartment house, was given a suspended sentence today by Judge Harry Stackell.

District Attorney Samuel Foley of the Bronx recommended mercy for the girl, who was convicted of second degree manslaughter. Judge Stackell placed her under probation for three years.

Hunt Lost Man In Arizona

GLOBE, Ariz., (AP)—Authorities expressed doubt here today that Elliott L. Ellingswood, Pasadena, Calif., contractor, lost nearly 70 hours ago in the remote country 100 miles north of here, could survive the high altitude and near freezing weather of the rugged area.

He disappeared early Tuesday morning while hunting.

Sheriff Charles R. Byrnes and deputies are converging from various points in the region where Ellingswood was last seen in an effort to find him.

GREECE PAYS ON LOAN BY U.S.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The treasury today announced payment of $108,960 by Greece to meet a portion of past due interest on $12,167,000 loan granted that country in 1929.

To date, Greece has repaid $831,000 of the principal and $1,548,140 in interest.

Tickets to Bridge Fete Available

Santa Ana chamber of commerce will handle local reservations for the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge celebration in San Francisco Nov. 12, 13 and 14.

A day parade will be held Nov. 13, with a night parade on Nov. 14. Grandstand seats for both parades cost $2.50, according to notice sent to the local chamber.

HAS NEW IDEA ON PARKING

Laguna Beach and San Juan Capistrano, which a few months ago were resisting state regulations requiring parallel parking on the highway inside those cities, could take a hint from City Engineer Austin Burt of Ontario, who was here today.

Burt, who conferred with Santa Ana City Engineer J. L. McBride on parking matters, reported he has a possible solution of the problem in his city.

There, on the double driveway of Euclid avenue, Ontarians have been wont, for several decades, to park at an angle. They even started a court battle to block the parallel parking requirement.

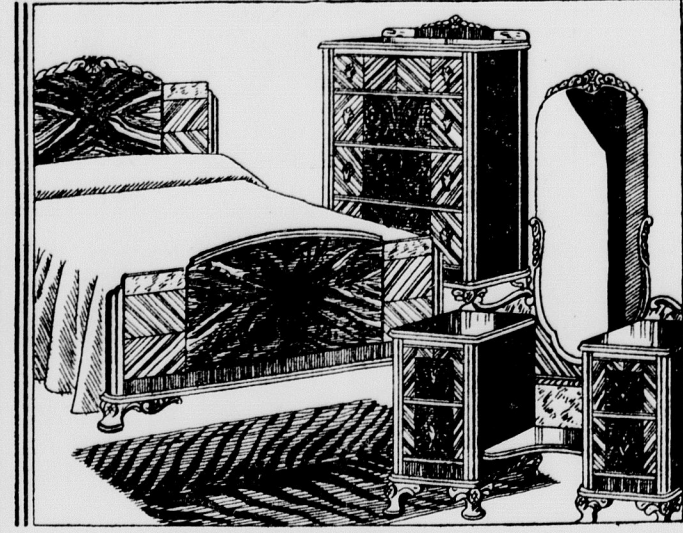

Now Burt is working on a plan to have the state release a 13-foot strip at the edge of the state highway right-of-way to the city. The state would regulate the center of the road and the city would regulate the edge.

And everybody, presumably, would be happy.

PARTIAL CAST OF NEW PLAY SELECTED

Ray Adkinson to Act as Judge in Courtroom Drama Here

Gladys Simpson Shafer, director of the Santa Ana Community Players, today announced a partially-completed cast of characters for Elmer Rice's play "Judgment Day" which is to be produced here early in December.

As in "The Bellamy Trial," outstanding success of last year, there are many dominant characters, and no one protagonist. "Judgment Day" is a powerful melodrama, rather than a mystery as was the courtroom play, and has even greater suspense and opportunity for dramatic action.

Real Attorneys
Tryouts last night at the old Barn resulted in Ray Adkinson being cast as Judge Murf, who presides over the city hall courtroom scene of the play; Franklin West will play the role of prosecuting attorney, Dr. Dathory and will be opposed by John Colwell, acting the part of Conrad Noli, defense attorney.

Bob Guild and Marian Bruner will again be linked together as co-defendants in the trial, the former impersonating George Khrivov, and the latter, Lydia Kuman.

Twenty More Parts
A comedy role, that of Dassara, a waiter who is a witness, will be filled by Harry Brackett, while Gordon X. Richmond will play the lordly part of General Rasikovski who "administers sweetness and light."

Arthur Chapman will be the president's secretary, Parvan. Six guards, Claude Blakemore, Richard Headon, Martin Miller, Frank Pope, Wilbur Wright and Avery Johnson complete the actors chosen thus far.

Some 20 roles remain to be filled before rehearsals commence early next week.

GIRL CLAIMS HYPNOTISM CURED HER

LONDON. (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Dorothy Pugh, who said she had been paralyzed for three years, walked and danced today and announced one application of hypnotism had cured her.

She said she had been hypnotized by Dr. A. E. Gibbs, a young practitioner, at Dageham, near London, and added:

"I felt a little sick after he had hypnotized me, but I found to my amazement that I could walk and speak."

Dr. Gibbs stated the attitude of the medical profession to his work was indicated by the fact that a leading medical journal refused to accept an article by him outlining his methods.

Since that happened, he said, "I have not been interested except for proving and developing the ideas I have developed from long study."

Miss Pugh said she had been in six London hospitals and was considered incurable.

Strange Sights and Sounds in Spanish War Recorded

(Editor's Note: There are strange sights in this Spanish war. An Associated Press correspondent jotted what he saw in his notebook. Here is some of it.)

On the Franco-Spanish line . . . priests, their religious duties completed, patrol the roads in insurgent territory in their flowing black robes . . . rifles slung across their backs and red Carlist berets on their heads.

NEW ORLEANS. (AP)—A cleanly washed drinking glass, when inverted on an unwashed tray, picks up on its rim 40,000 to 50,000 bacteria. Most likely in its new dwellers are pneumonia, tuberculosis and influenza organisms.

This glass is a link in the "disease chain of dirty dishes," which the American Public Health association was informed today never has been broken. It is a chain perpetuating personal infections.

The germ-picking glasses were found by scientific tests in Washington, D. C., and reported today by James G. Cumming, M. D., and N. E. Young of the District of Columbia department of health.

Want of knowledge of how to wash dishes in public eating places, they said, by overlooking little practices like inverting a glass properly, is putting back into circulation many of the 99 per cent of disease germs which medical men thought they had banned by purifying water supplies and milk.

Safe dishwashing was declared both cheap and feasible. Take the dishes from the wash water, Dr. Cummings said, and put them in water containing a solution of hypochlorite. After that it is safe to rinse them even in cold water.

The result, he noted, is a 99 per cent reduction in the bacteria.

WAGES BEING RAISED TO OLD LEVEL

L. A. City Employees and Fisk Rubber Workers Given Increases

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Restoring wages to the 1929 level, the Los Angeles city council approved an ordinance yesterday eliminating the last 5 per cent pay cut from the checks of more than 5000 city employees.

City Comptroller John S. Myers, who estimated the cost of the wage restoration at $141,000 annually, said "economies worked out by the city council in cooperation with my office make the pay cut restoration feasible and practicable."

During the past few years the city cut pay of employees from 5 to 20 per cent.

POULTRYMEN TO MEET TUESDAY

Poultrymen of Southern California will trade notes and study the latest in methods and equipment at the second annual poultry demonstration day at the Pomona fair grounds Tuesday, Oct. 27, according to Ross Crane, assistant farm advisor.

Exhibits will be ready by 9 a. m. and will remain until 5 p. m. Staff members of the poultry husbandry and veterinary divisions of the University of California will explain details of the work.

Any farmer interested in poultry is invited to attend, Crane said. A. L. Wolford, chairman of the poultry department of Orange county Farm bureau, suggested that poultrymen fill up their autos with friends and make a day of the occasion.

Great Reindeer Roundup Planned

BARROW, Alaska. (AP)—Uncle Sam took a hand today to bring 30,000 reindeer together in one of the largest roundups of Santa Claus' antlered ponies in the history of Alaska.

Fifth miles inland from Point Barrow, just over the Arctic ice from Santa's Christmas headquarters, great modern corrals will be built for the reindeer.

Here the deer will be counted and marked after they have been herded by the Eskimos from the Arctic plains of frozen tundra for hundreds of miles around.

Tom McFadden Got His Start in Pioneer Atmosphere

THOMAS L. McFADDEN

(Editor's Note: Who are these candidates for public office in Orange county? What kind of men are they personally? What are their families like? How did they get their start in life, their education and their experience? What are their hobbies? The Journal is publishing a series of biographical sketches about the 12 local candidates who will be on the November ballot. Platforms and campaigns will be ignored in this series. The men themselves, as you would know them if you met them, will be presented. The eighth article appears today.)

Tom McFadden's father, a pioneer Orange county teacher, liked to argue and always wished he had been an attorney.

So he achieved his ambition vicariously through his son, Tom, urged by his father, went willingly into law, pointing directly for that career, and he is glad he did it.

But his father didn't live to see Tom hang out his shingle.

The death came when McFadden, now a leading attorney of Anaheim, was in his second year at Stanford law school. That made it necessary for the budding young lawyer to get out and hustle. He finished his legal education reading law in a San Francisco law office, and in his own practice later.

The Republican candidate for state senator was admitted to the bar in San Francisco in 1902, and first opened his own office in Bellingham, Wash., the following year.

For four years he was city attorney of Bellingham, an elective office. As an accommodation to the mayor, he was police chief for three months, while the city selected a permanent chief.

Bellingham was all right, McFadden said, but family ties and land interest here made it necessary for him to return to Orange county in 1912. He opened offices in Placentia.

Proud of Partners
Then H. G. Ames, now superior judge, invited him into partnership in Anaheim. When Ames was elected judge in 1925, George Holden became McFadden's partner.

McFadden takes pride in the attorneys Ames has taken into his office and who have risen to prominence. Roland Thompson and Leo Friis are among these.

McFadden was born in 1878 in Placentia, at that time a small settlement which his mother had named. How she chose that name, no one remembers. There were five boys and a girl in the family, living on the home place which still remains in the McFadden family.

The nearest neighbors, the Kraemers, lived a mile away.

Taught by Greeley
As the agricultural aspect of the county changed, the home place changed, too. First it was set to vineyard, then to walnuts, and later oranges.

J. P. Greeley of Newport Beach, first county superintendent of schools, was one of McFadden's first grammar school teachers. His further education came at Fullerton high school, of which he was half of the first graduating class. The other half was Arthur Staley. McFadden then attended Stanford university.

Active in business and quiet in his home life, McFadden somehow hasn't found much time for hobbies. He does like to read philosophy and biography. What he'd like most if he had time would be to raise fine pets and livestock.

His wife is the former Luciana Foster, daughter of Marco Foster of San Juan Capistrano. His daughter, Mrs. Ysadora Lytel, lives with her husband, an oil engineer, at Hamburg, Germany.

Past president of the Anaheim Rotary club, McFadden is a 32nd degree Mason, a Shriner, and an Elk. He belongs to the Chamber of Commerce and Stanford club. He is city attorney of Placentia.

BLIND 13 YEARS, HE SEES AGAIN

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis. (AP) Levi Bates, his sight strangely restored, revealed today in seeing the homely, familiar objects he knew before he was stricken blind 13 years ago.

"I don't know how to describe it all," said the 67-year-old former farm laborer, who went to sleep blind, but awoke the following morning able to see—with his right eye—what he called a "fair-land."

"I wasn't exactly excited when I woke up Monday and found out that I could see again," he said. "I looked at the bed spread first. I guess, and then I saw the red stone in my ring. I got out of bed then, and went into the kitchen and looked out the window. I could see across the street and I saw the house over there was green and then I counted the trees in the yard. I really believed it then."

Since birth Bates had been bothered by poor eyesight and since 1923 had received a blind pension. He said doctors were unable to help him.

Trapper Admits Slaying Warden

NEGAUNEE, Mich. (AP)—Prosecutor John D. Voelker announced today that Raymond Kivela, 27-year-old upper Michigan trapper, had confessed the woods slaying of a game warden who was ambushed and his body dynamited.

The confession came 30 hours after scattered bits of the body of Andrew Schmeltz, 45, veteran conservation officer, were found by searchers in a swamp of the sparsely settled Carp River district to which the game warden went to investigate illegal trapping activities.

SEVERED LEG IS EXCITING TRINIDAD

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—A gruesome murder mystery, on which authorities had for a clew only the cleanly severed left leg of a girl or a small woman, excited this southern Colorado town today.

A dog dragged the leg to the front lawn of Mrs. V. E. Burson yesterday. She notified Sheriff Ray Marty.

Tony Herrera and Emilio Gomez, both of Trinidad, told Marty they saw the leg wrapped in newspapers Monday in an arroyo near here, but thought it was bear meat and paid little attention. The newspapers were printed in Denver, Oct. 15, but Marty quoted physicians as saying the leg had been amputated not more than three days before it was found.

The flesh still was in good condition, except for having been gnawed slightly.

The sheriff said surgeons of the district reported no amputations in the last several days.

Fears were expressed that the victim might be Frances Vigil, 18, waitress, missing from her home here since Sunday. Deputy Coroner Robert Sipe said the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crescencio Vigil, approached him a few hours after the discovery became known and related the girl left home in the company of a man, whom Sipe would not identify.

In some ways the radio is nice for political speeches, and in some ways it isn't.

When the mud starts coming out of the loud speaker faster than we can handle it, we can throw the radio out of the window, or turn it off, which is something that can't be done with a politician.

But it ain't like the old time meeting which one could attend whether he be a "yes" man or not. Now days one must be o.k.-ed by proper authority and agree to clap when given the signal and boo when Al Smith's or Herbert Hoover's name is mentioned (for radio effect).

Imagine an old-time political meeting with a few hecklers. Imagine some politician proclaiming that "Farmers ought to grow more wheat instead of ploughing it under." Then from the crowd might come "What about hay?" To which the speaker might say "I'm speaking now about food for mankind. I'll get around to your case in a few minutes."

Wonder how President Roosevelt or Governor Landon would hold up "under fire?"

Fooled by continued warm weather, a plum tree on the farm of T. J. Jennings near Tucuman, Tex., put forth a second crop of blooms this year.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska. (AP)—Slight damage was caused by a sharp earthquake last night which sent frightened persons scurrying into the streets.

The quake, which lasted several seconds, was followed by several minor shocks.

The concrete walls of the Anchorage Time building were cracked, a plate-glass window shattered and plaster dislodged.

Whipping Post Idea Acclaimed

SEATTLE. (AP)—Reah Whitehead, justice of the peace, urged that women whip women offenders and men lash male criminals, if the state adopts the whipping post recommendation of the Washington State Bar association legislative committee.

She made the recommendation after hearing Attorney Tom S. Patterson speak in behalf of the whipping post at a Seattle Bar association session Wednesday.

ARMY PLANES HOLD GREAT MANEUVERS

March Field Ships Go To Bakersfield for Field Exercises

MARCH FIELD. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commander of the first wing general headquarters air force, has announced that Bakersfield, Calif., is the scene of one of the greatest series of air corps maneuvers held in any West coast municipality in recent years.

Troop movement to the Kern county seat recently started and the maneuvers will extend to Nov. 18. The Nineteenth bombardment group and squadrons of the Seventeenth attack group will hold field exercises there. The latest type of bombardment and attack airplanes are being used in these maneuvers.

Object Is Training

The general idea the main object of camping at the Bakersfield airport would be to give the 500 enlisted men and 100 officers involved opportunities to be trained in the operation of a military airfield in the field. The greatest number camped at the airport at one time will be 350 enlisted men and 50 officers.

Thunderbirds of the Thirty-fourth attack squadron, eight officers and 77 enlisted men, comprised the first unit taking the field. This detachment will return here Oct. 28. First Lieut. Nathan Bedford Forrest commands the outfit.

Another Goes In

On the morning of Oct. 28 the Golden Bears of the Seventy-third attack squadron, commanded by Major L. C. Mallory, will move to Bakersfield, remaining to Nov. 14. It will be followed a few days later by the famous Ninety-fifth attack squadron of the Seventeenth group, which during the World war participated in 240 aerial combats. First Lieut. Ernest H. Lawson commands the Ninety-fifth. Squadron exercises will continue until Armistice day, Nov. 11.

The whole Seventeenth attack group will concentrate at the airport on Armistice day. Its work will consist mainly of dispatching attack planes daily to Murco Dry Lake gunnery and bombing range for target bombing and gunnery.

Other Tactics

This range practice will be the first exercise of the Seventeenth group with the army's newest attack (Northrop) planes. Glide bombing, which consists of coming down in a steep glide preparatory to attacking the target, will be one of the features of squadron and group training.

Bombing will be restricted to an altitude of 100 feet or more.

All planes will return to March Field on Nov. 18.

Capt. Philip Schwartz, first wing ordnance officer, reports that six carloads of bombs, totaling 2500 of the 50-pounders, will be used in the exercises.

MEXICO FIGHTS RISING PRICES

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—Mexico's government struck at rising food prices today with orders all grocery stores must display their prices publicly.

The rocketing price of tortillas—staff of life to Mexico's poorer classes—without any justifying rise in the cost of corn, was cited as one of the main reasons for the government edict.

Henceforth, the federal district department ordered, prices listed may not be higher than the maximum set by the department of national economy.

Officials explained the action was necessary because arbitrary increases in food prices nullified the advantages labor derived from minimum wage legislation.

New Models for Streamlined Trains Planned

CHICAGO. (AP)—Streamlined trains introduced less than two years ago as the pride of the nation's railroads were relegated today to runner-up position by gleaming new speedsters of the rails.

Spokesmen for five western railroads in the midst of new building programs said that although the lines would hardly adopt the automobile makers' "model-a-year" plan rapid developments called for constant acquisition of new equipment—with even the newer present rolling stock consigned to secondary lines.

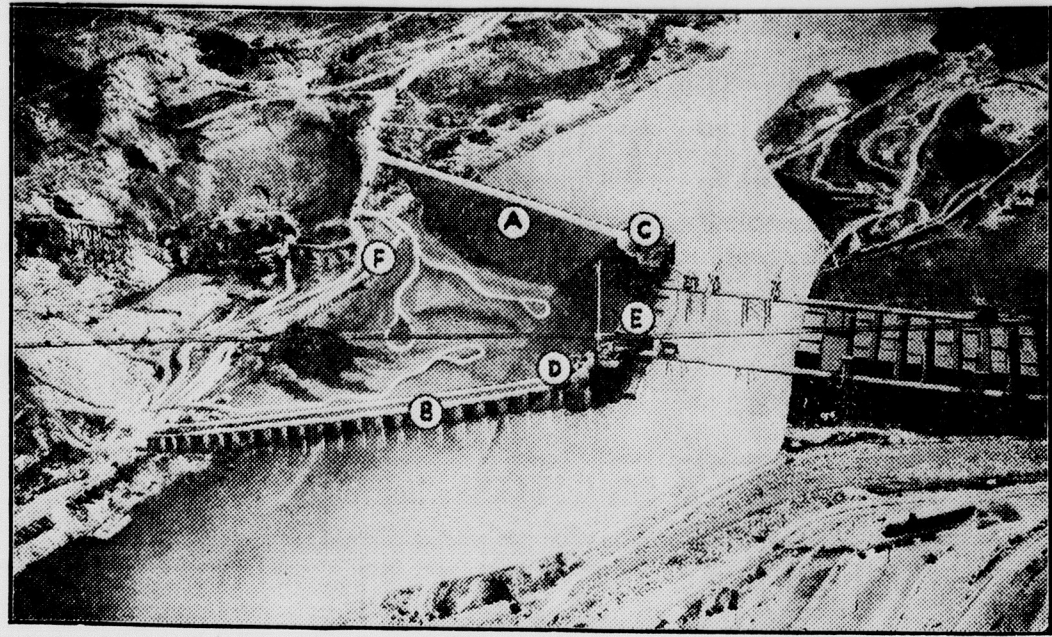

Ice Box Melting Meter Invented

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A melting-meter for ice-boxes, designed to save money for farmers, has been developed by a department of agriculture scientist.

Freight rates on perishable goods are based in part on how much ice is consumed in making the shipment, explained Edward A. Gorman, the inventor. At present, refrigerator cars are filled at the beginning of a journey, and workers estimate the amount of ice used by a glance into the ice-box at the end of the trip.

Gorman's device catches the melted ice-water as it drops from the car, and measures its flow in cubic feet.

How Diversion of Mighty Columbia Will Look

This combination photograph and artist's sketch shows how the Columbia river will look when the builders of Grand Coulee dam in Washington force the stream from its regular channel. On the aerial picture the artist drew the diversion dam as it will appear when completed in Feb. 1937. The letters "A" and "B" indicate the upper and lower crib cofferdams which will join the sheet steel, west side coffer, "C" and "D." "E" indicates Block 40 on the west side of the dam, built to its full height. "F" is the east shore cofferdam, behind which concrete pouring will soon start. (Associated Press Photo)

SICK BOY BLOWS BALLOON That's Part of Treatment

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Every 15 minutes as he lies in a hospital here, Alfred Malchow, 21, blows up a toy balloon. He does it in an effort to recover from injuries suffered in an automobile accident and from a complicated surgical operation which followed.

The exertion of inflation of the balloon is to keep Malchow's left lung expanded, and physicians said today they believed he would recover unless he developed pneumonia.

The young man was injured critically in an automobile-motor truck collision near Morrill, Neb., last Sept. 29 in which his brother, Arthur, 23, was killed.

X-ray pictures showed Alfred's lung in the cavity of his left chest and stomach was turned upside down that his heart was pushed over to the right side of his chest. For a week he lived under an oxygen tent.

Last Friday surgeons moved Malchow's stomach, most of the small intestines and a part of the liver from the chest to their normal positions. Both the abdomen and chest cavities were opened.

For two hours physicians worked rapidly to supply enough oxygen to keep Malchow breathing and enough anesthetic to keep him sleeping. Alfred's left lung had collapsed and it was necessary to expand it, with the heart moving back to its normal position of its own accord. Then came the balloon treatment to keep the lung open.

Camera Unfolds Secrets of Humming Bird in Reverse

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—A new camera—clicking a picture in each hundred-thousandth of a second—ripped the cloak of uncertainty from the flying habits of birds today.

It showed naturalists what they might only have guessed at otherwise—the number of wingbeats a minute, and why the little humming bird can fly backwards.

Delegates to the American Ornithologists union, meeting at Carnegie Institute, saw the wings of the tiny humming bird move so swiftly they appeared not to move at all, but the new camera recorded 40 strokes each second while the bird hovered and 75 a second on the takeoff.

Other birds in flight move their wings in a circular motion, but the camera shows the humming bird has a shoulder motion and the experts think that explains how it can go into reverse.

The new camera has sound, too. The bird experts heard the beat of the ruffled grouse, that sounds so exciting to the hunter, the woodpecker's rat-tat-tat and alarm call of the antarctic penguin.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology developed the camera and Harold E. Edgerton and Charles L. Blake, of that school, took the movies.

Late Risers on Ship Punished

LONDON. (AP)—Twenty members of the crew of H. M. S. Guardian have been deprived of their daily tot of rum for three months because they were tardy about falling in at daylight on a chilly morning recently.

They also were denied their usual three hours of leisure daily for the same period.

The admiralty states the "incident consisted of reluctance and a short delay in falling in. The normal routine of the ship was not affected."

The sailors complained they had had insufficient rest.

VETS OF FUTURE WARS GIVE UP

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—The Veterans of Future Wars, its national council advised all post commanders today, has "temporarily suspended" its activities and closed its central office here.

The announcement said the principal reason was satisfaction that "our immediate objectives have been reached." The presidential election and the fact "our war chests are almost empty" were also cited.

The organization, started by Princeton undergraduates last spring, spread to campuses throughout the country. Its "tongue-in-the-cheek" demand for immediate payment of a bonus to veterans of wars to come was its rallying cry.

Murder Leads to Finding 12 Girls

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—An unsolved killing led to the reunion of 12 missing girls with friends and relatives, Clarence Morrill, chief of the criminal identification bureau, disclosed today.

Attempts by authorities to learn the identity of a woman found dead in El Dorado county through tattoo marks on one leg, brought inquiries from persons who knew young women with tattoo marks on their bodies. Morrill said his department just finished locating the twelfth tattooed woman about whom inquiries were made.

LEAGUE BOOK TELLS ARMS OF WORLD

GENEVA. (AP)—A vast increase in the armaments of the world was shown today by the League of Nations armament year book for 1936. National defense budgets generally showed an increase over the previous year.

The book placed Soviet Russia's combined army forces at 1,300,000. Italy's army was stated to total 527,606. Japan's 237,608, and France's 642,875.

The league said the book has been unable to obtain accurate official data on Germany's armed forces, but "according to unofficial publications the effective strength of the German army would be 550,000 officers and men."

The book gave the United States army as 138,835 men and 12,930 officers. Counting the national guard and reserve forces, the total for 1935 was placed at 438,577. American army air force personnel was stated to be 16,847 and for the navy air force, 13,574.

MODESTO GETS GRANGE MEET

EUREKA. (AP)—Members of the California State Grange will hold their 1937 convention in Modesto, Riverside and Bakersfield already are campaigning for the 1938 convocation.

Modesto easily won the honor yesterday, polling 333 votes to 62 for San Jose.

The convention city question settled, delegates turned to discussing several resolutions that have been brought to the floor by the various committees. Taxation, old age pensions, highways, toll bridges and other subjects have been discussed.

It was understood several resolutions urging approval of the Townsend plan have been introduced, but the conference will continue to urge "substantial old age pensions" and nothing more.

Vote at Polls, Not On Windshields, Is Advice to Drivers

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The American motorist was urged today to register his political preferences at the polls and not on his automobile.

"Huge stickers which blot out large areas of vision," said Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association, "are definite driving hazards."

Anthrax Attacks Sheep in North

WATERVILLE, Wash. (AP)—Fear of the dread anthrax spread through the sheep camps of the north central Washington region today while smoldering embers marked the scattered pyres where 900 carcasses were burned throughout the night.

Sheriff Harry Smith said State Veterinary Philipatrik ordered the carcasses burned after a great pit had been dug with horses for a mass burial. Philipatrik ordered the cremation after he came here yesterday and decided anthrax, rather than poison weeds, caused the sheep to drop like apples in the orchard where they grazed.

Severe Quake in Pacific Reported

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A "severe" earthquake on the Pacific side of South America early this morning was reported today by the Georgetown University observatory.

The observatory's seismograph showed the quake started at 1:33:04 a. m., reached its maximum intensity at 2 a. m., and ceased at 4 a. m. The position was shown as 3300 miles southwest of Washington.

RELIEF VOTE CHALLENGED IN MAINE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Chairman Lonergan (D., Conn.), of the special senate committee investigating campaign spending said today that its agents in Maine had reported that "thousands of voters were threatened with disqualification as voters because of their status on relief rolls."

"Many voters failed to appear to register and vote because they had been told they would be challenged on this ground," he quoted committee investigators as saying.

The investigators' report is being studied by Walter Myers, committee attorney, Lonergan said.

The committee said its agents found that citizens on relief in Maine "had been classified as paupers and were denied the right to vote" by a state statute.

"Investigators reported," the committee said, "that voters were threatened by statements from election officials to the effect that they would not be eligible to vote and that these statements were supported by a letter from the office of the state's attorney general."

CLIPPER LANDS IN HONGKONG

HONG KONG. (AP)—A modern American Clipper ship blazed a new trail of travel today as a giant Pan-American Airways plane landed in Hong Kong harbor to be the first commercial airplane to span the Pacific Ocean.

The Philippine Clipper, with 20 passengers aboard, landed at 4:10 a. m. today (12:10 a. m., Santa Ana time) from Manila.

Hong Kong is scheduled to become the Eastern terminus for the new clipper service from the United States mainland to the Orient.

In the party were President Juan B. Tripp of the Pan-American Airways, and Mrs. Tripp, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, a director of the airways firm; Roy W. Howard, publisher, and Senator and Mrs. William G. McAduo of California.

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—"The baby who never cries" is going to raise a husky rumpus—and lose his unbecome title.

Surgeons said today operations to remove an obstruction in the throat of 13 months old Eugene Greger have been successful.

Eugene's mother, Mrs. Otto Grego, sought surgical aid, saying, "I felt funny because he never cried." Eugene couldn't, the obstruction had nearly closed his larynx, making utterance of any sounds impossible.

Ex-Roosevelt Aid Supports Landon

TILLY FOSTER, N. Y. (AP)—Lewis W. Douglas, former director of the budget in the Roosevelt administration, lined up with the opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's re-election today, asserting the New Deal "has outraged the historic beliefs and the 1932 promises of the Democratic party."

NAVY PLANES COLLIDE; ONE FLIER DIES

PENSACOLA, Fla., (AP)—A naval inquiry was called today into a collision of two training planes at 1000 feet which killed one naval aviation cadet and seriously wounded another here yesterday. The pilots, Cadets G. C. Gibbs of Hollywood, Calif., and J. L. Mueller of Grosse Point, Mich., leaped immediately after the crash and escaped unharm.

Cadet E. T. Haganauer of New York, a passenger in the plane piloted by Gibbs, leaped too late and his parachute failed to save him. He struck the water of a bayou.

Cadet M. L. Gourley of Birmingham, Ala., apparently was trapped in the other plane and fell with it into a tree near the shore. His condition was reported as critical.

TOASTMASTER HONORS FOR SMEDLEY

Twelve years of Toastmasters club activities were celebrated here last night when 130 representatives of Toastmasters clubs of Southern California paid tribute to R. C. Smedley, founder, and charter members of the "mother" club here.

The occasion was the twelfth birthday of Smedley Chapter No. 1, which was founded Oct. 22, 1924, when Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., called a group of business and professional men together to organize a club for training in public speech.

There are now 70 clubs affiliated in Toastmasters International. Speakers last night included A. G. Green of Santa Ana chapter No. 1; E. H. Layton of El Camino chapter, Santa Ana; Walter Taylor of the Anaheim club; Hugh K. Peabody of Laguna Beach, C. M. Bozarth of Long Beach and Homer Faber of Fullerton.

Jean Bordeaux of Los Angeles, president of Toastmasters International, presided over the meeting.

COUZENS RITES TO BE MONDAY

DETROIT, (AP)—Death has ended drama that James Couzens packed into his poor-boy-to-millionaire career after a climatic "curtain call" that doubtless will be remembered long after the heat of this political campaign has died away.

F.D.R. PLANS MORE TALKS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Back at the White House after two days of the most arduous motor campaigning in southern New England, President Roosevelt began making plans today for at least one more major speech next week before his final pre-election address in Madison Square Garden the night of Oct. 31.

While the President has not named the date and place of this appearance there was talk that it would be made in Eastern Pennsylvania, probably Scranton, either en route to New York for the Statute of Liberty celebration next Wednesday or between that day and his Garden engagement.

Mr. Roosevelt speaks tonight from the White House to 18 diners being held in various cities. They are known as the "business men's dinners for Roosevelt."

Monday he will dedicate a new chemistry building at Howard university here.

Farm Officers Begin Training

Officers of the Orange county Farm Bureau and its various Farm centers will commence a six weeks' training course here tonight at Santa Ana Junior college, 917 North Main street.

R. C. Smedley, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., will lead the class in six Friday night sessions to study the principles of organizing and presiding over meetings and of making reports and talks. They will begin at 7:30 p. m.

There will be no charge, it was announced. Sixty-eight farm organization officers are signed up, it was announced.

Arrest Follows Burning of Car

One occupant of a car stolen from Long Beach, which was found burning after it had run into a power pole, was being held here today on drunk charges pending arrival of Long Beach police.

Edward Tustin, 23, Long Beach, was found a mile from the scene of the crash at Ocean avenue and Berrydale road early today by Deputy Sheriffs G. F. McKelvey and A. W. Fullerton, as witnesses threw sand on the burning car to extinguish the flames. A second occupant of the stolen auto escaped.

That profusion of names appeared in a suit on file today in Santa Ana justice court, in which Kee asks $200, allegedly due the estate of Lem Foo, deceased, from Gallman and his wife, Mildred Gallman. The suit was filed by the firm of Dockweiler and Dockweiler, Los Angeles attorneys.

Probation Given Edwin Schroeder

BLONDE BOMBHELL

A minute interview with Lois Terry: Generally regarded as the southland's classiest softball slinger, a southpaw they call the "Blonde Bombshell," Miss Terry is 19... says the hardest game she ever pitched was against the Orange Lionettes this summer... and the easiest against the Ventura gals, whom she struck out 18 times.

MISS LOIS TERRY Respects Orange Gals

Lois has a 16-year-old sister, Zola by name, who wanted to learn the finer arts of pitching and even offered to wash the dinner dishes (after a houseful of company) if Lois would give her two weeks of instructions—on how to hurl... Lois, who has moved from Los Angeles with Zola and her mother to 925 French street, will perform for George Lackey's Starlets in the National Nightball league next spring... Among her teammates will be Melita Foster, Ruth Lee, Esther Coates, Kazuo Oshiki, Ruth Anderson, Kate Dahn, Virginia Mathews, Marge Brown and Grace Berge from the Santa Ana Girl's league.

Tiernan's Hockey Quintet Plays Anaheim Tuesday

That the Tiernan Typists, uncrowned roller-skate and hockey champions of Orange county, will have a strenuous test with Anaheim at the Santa Ana rink Tuesday was evidenced last night by Anaheim's 2-1 defeat of Fullerton. Next Tuesday's game will be played at 9:30 p. m.

Washington-California Game in Spotlight

TROJANS RISK CHANCES AT PALO ALTO

Easy Victory Predicted For U. C. L. A. Against Oregon State Club

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Washington's powerful Huskies swing the Pacific Coast conference spotlight to Seattle tomorrow, where they battle once-beaten California, while at Palo Alto Southern California risks its championship chances against a rejuvenated band of Stanford Indians.

The Huskies, who have displayed well-balanced ground and aerial attacks in downing U. C. L. A. and Oregon State in impressive fashion, remain the team to beat for the coast title. California's championship hopes suffered a severe setback last Saturday when the Bears lost 17 to 6 to U. C. L. A. and several practice injuries make the outlook none too bright.

The Bears have drilled all week on offense against passes, the weapon the Bruins used so effectively Saturday.

Stanford's Indians have practiced secretly two weeks since tying Oregon, 7 to 7, and Coach ("Tiny") Thornhill's new plays and formations are calculated to surprise U. S. C.

Trojan stock dropped several points Saturday in a scoreless tie game with W. S. C., which nosed out Stanford, 14 to 13, three weeks ago.

Their future brighter after the U. S. C. affair, Washington State's Cougars take the field at Eugene against University of Oregon, fresh from a 13 to 0 triumph over Idaho.

Los Angeles, U. C. L. A.'s Bruins figure on an easy victory over Oregon State, in the conference cellar with three defeats. The Bruins showed spurts of power Saturday though they were downed, 19 to 7, by Washington.

Idaho tackles the Grizzlies of Nevada at Reno, while Montana and Montana State square off in their traditional civil war at Butte.

BRUINS IN FIRST-RATE CONDITION TOMORROW

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Bill Spaulding's U. C. L. A. Bruins, calmly determined to show that their rout of California last week was no flash in the pan, will go into the Oregon state game in the Coliseum here tomorrow afternoon in first-rate condition.

After a hectic week of preparation, the main concern centered around the weak knee of Fullback Walt Schell. He has been troubled all season with the injury. Young Bill Spaulding and Don Ferguson have seen little scrimmaging this week, but the Bruin mentor saw no reason for endangering their condition. Spaulding was knocked out early in the California game, but suffered no lasting effects aside from a skinned chin.

Another South American, Arturo Godoy, labeled the champion heavyweight of the southern continent, is bidding for gold and glory in American rings. Just how good he really is only time and a couple of bouts with some of our second-flight heavies will tell.

ELKS FORMING CAGE ENTRY

Always a threat in City Nightball league, the B. P. O. E. lodge of Santa Ana is planning to organize a basketball entry for the Y. M. C. A. league this winter.

The team, it is understood, will be managed by Kenneth Miller, the Elks' softball pilot, and Bob Schwarm, star guard of Santa Ana Jaycee's 1934 cagers.

Secretary Ralph Smedley of the "Y" plans to call a meeting of Community Church and Commercial league managers and sponsors within the near future to discuss plans for the 1936 season. Quentin Matzen's Woolen Millers, Commercial league champions, will be back in the fold. Matzen already has arranged a practice skirmish with Riverside, Eastern Junior college conference champion.

Leading Touchdown Maker Injured

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Bob Davis, galloping Kentucky halfback, who leads the nation's scorers with 11 touchdowns, won't have a chance to increase his total here Saturday against the Florida Gators.

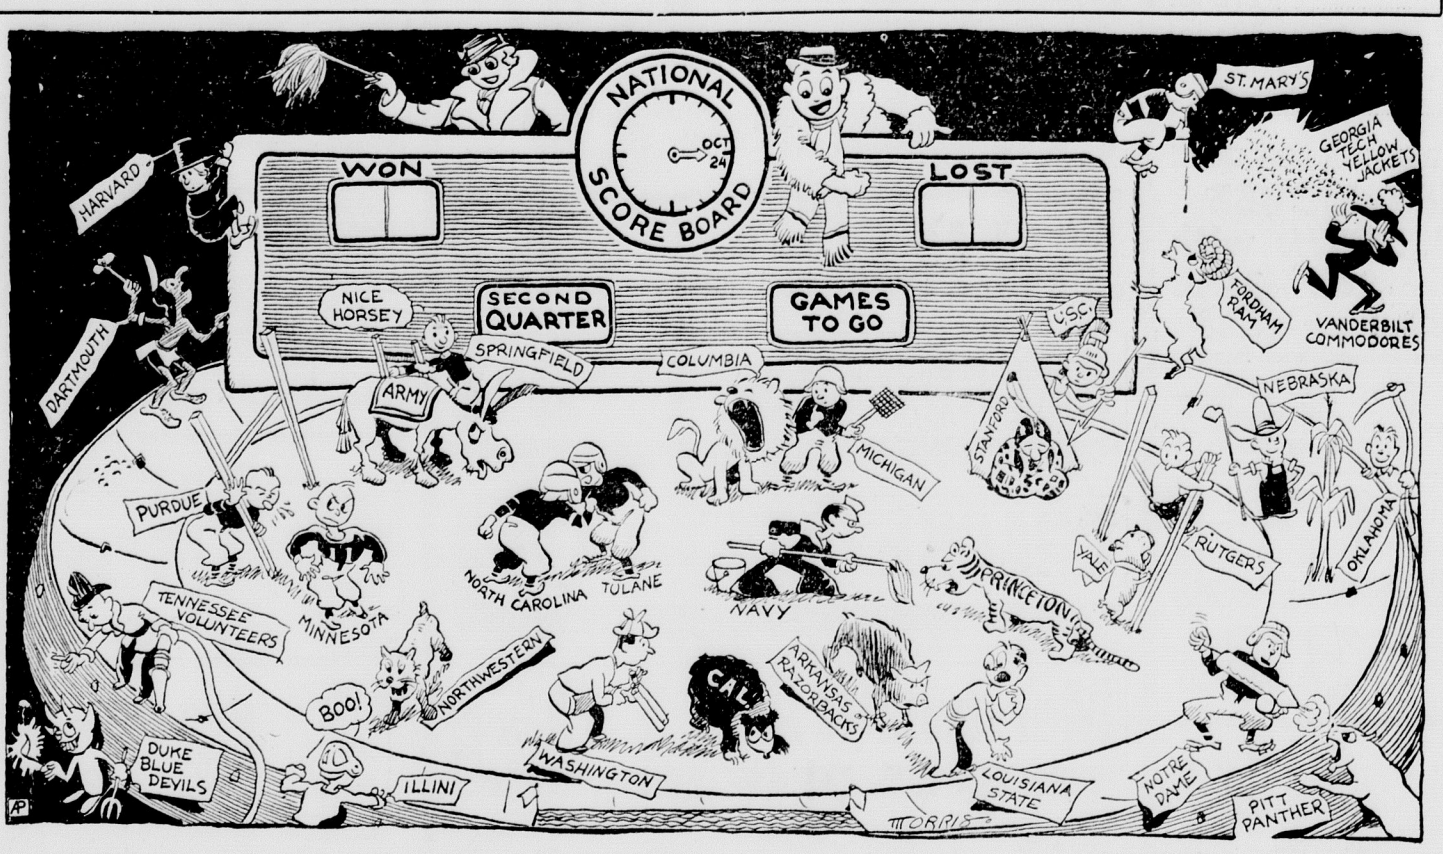

He was in a hospital today for treatment for a side injury.

Willard Elevens Bag Two Games

Willard Junior High school's Class Cees hung up a 14-6 victory over Placentia High's lightweight gridders Thursday. Willard's first score came in the second quarter on a 50-yard run by Harold Montana. Mike Chairey bucked it over guard for the extra point.

Willard's Bees hold a 12-6 decision over Tustin High's lightweights.

THIS WEEK'S PIGSKIN PANORAMA

SPORTS SLANTS

By "PAP"

Now that Joe Louis has fairly well exhausted the crop of available American heavyweights, his ringwise managers are reaching out to foreign lands to find opponents for the Bomber. Foreign fighters are so much easier to build up—in most cases the American public knows little about these importations other than what a wily manager chooses to tell. The international angle always adds color to a big fight.

Jorge Bescia, the young Argentine, is not completely out of the picture despite the fact that Louis stopped him in less than three rounds. The Argentine looked very good until he made the fatal mistake of dropping his hands when coming out of a clinch. That gave Louis a perfect opening and he shot over a crushing left hook to Don Ferguson's jaw.

Young Bill Spaulding and Don Ferguson have seen little scrimmaging this week, but the Bruin mentor saw no reason for endangering their condition. Spaulding was knocked out early in the California game, but suffered no lasting effects aside from a skinned chin.

Another South American, Arturo Godoy, labeled the champion heavyweight of the southern continent, is bidding for gold and glory in American rings. Just how good he really is only time and a couple of bouts with some of our second-flight heavies will tell.

Godoy's record shows several victories over fighters known in this country. The crowning achievement to his career so far was his victory over Luis Angel Firpo in three rounds in the latter's home town of Buenos Aires. Godoy knocked any notions Firpo may have had about a comeback sky high—he spared us another visit by the erstwhile Wild Bull of the Pampas, and for that we should be everlastingly grateful.

That victory over Firpo cleared the path to the United States and here Godoy is now, not tossing challenges at the Braddocks, the Schmeling and the Louises, but willing to make his presence felt by meeting any heavyweight who is looking for a fight.

"I want the American fight public to decide whether or not I belong with your top-notchers," is his explanation. "I'll do my part to the best of my ability and when they say I am ready for your best men I'll be ready for them." Which is quite a different attitude from that generally assumed by invading scrappers. It's a note in the character of this younger—a note that likely will bring him great popularity.

Foe Leads With Biopics Godoy is a fine looking specimen of manhood. He is short of six feet, but weighs more than 200 pounds, and there isn't an ounce of superfluous flesh on him. He appears a veritable man of iron. In his 50 fights he has never been on the floor.

Coach Harry Sipke, whose Michigan Wolverines fell before the Bierman-coached juggernaut last Saturday 26 to 0, doesn't believe the Gophers are as good as in 1934 and 1935; that they "lack punch." He conceded they may have it before the season ends, a view taken by thousands of Minnesota supporters who regard the Gophers this season as a slowly-developing outfit.

If the Gophers have an outstanding weakness it should show tomorrow under the pounding of Purdue's fine line and two backs already acclaimed one of the best pair of ball-toters in the Midwest. Cecil Isbell, who can punt, pass and run with unusual proficiency, has sparked his team's attack. Playing with him will be John Drake, a slashing back with speed and drive.

The Gophers have the edge in reserve strength, with two and three good men for almost every position.

Their questionable strength lies in the fullback spot, where Vic Spadaccini, Whitman Fork, Larry Buhler and George Raust alternate. In Andy Uram, Bud Wilkinson, Julius Alphonse, Rudy Gmitro, Wilbur Moore, Bill Matheny and "Tuffy" Thompson they have numerous fine offensive threats.

Minnesota's last defeat was in 1932, at the hands of Michigan. In 1933 the Gophers won four games and lost as many, starting their current winning streak by downing Wisconsin 6 to 3 in the final tilt of the year. In 1935 they piled up 270 points to 38 for the opposition. In 1935 they amassed 194 points to 46 for opponents. The year they defeated Washington, Nebraska and Michigan.

Fordham defense one way or another. Princeton-Navy: Neither could translate power into victory last week. Both might find the answer tomorrow. In the meantime, a timid bow to the Tiger. Tulane-North Carolina: On their performances in New York last week, Tulane's the answer to a prognosticator's prayer. Illinois-Northwestern: Illinois is improving fast but hardly enough to trap a super-charged Wildcat. Northwestern.

Southern California-Stanford: Stanford took last Saturday off for this one. It should be close, but the nomination goes to Southern California.

PURDUE GUNS FOR UPSET Gophers on Spot Tomorrow

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota, for three years a swashbuckling terror of the gridiron, goes "on the spot" under Purdue's big guns tomorrow.

The Boiler-makers, whose steamroller attack has piled up 117 points in three victories, invade Minneapolis to put the finger not only on the Gopher hopes of an other western conference and national title but also on their remarkable modern record of 20 straight wins and no losses in 27 contests.

A red-hot subject for debate—"are the Gophers what they used to be"—should come up for some kind of decision, and 50,000 roaring fans will be in the jury box for what is generally regarded as Minnesota's stiffest test thus far this fall.

Coach Harry Sipke, whose Michigan Wolverines fell before the Bierman-coached juggernaut last Saturday 26 to 0, doesn't believe the Gophers are as good as in 1934 and 1935; that they "lack punch." SAINT 'BEES' READY FOR L.B. HARES

By HERBERT BARKER

Impressive in warmup scrimmages, Coach Joe Koegler's Class B gridders carry Santa Ana High school's colors into Coast Preparatory league warfare with Long Beach's Jackrabbits inside the Municipal bowl at 12:15 p. m. tomorrow.

The game will be played as a preliminary to the varsity feature between the Saints and Jackrabbits at 2:30 p. m.

Young Koegler, who employs the Notre Dame shift and Washington State line fundamentals, boasts a light but scrappy eleven that may extend the invading Jackrabbits, who relinquished their league crown to Alhambra last fall because of ineligibility. Long Beach, with a large enrollment, annually produces classy football teams in all divisions.

Loss of Byram Bates, left halfback who has been out with a badly wrenched knee, greatly reduces the Saints' victory chances. Their lineup, subject to last-minute changes, will find Wallace Jennings at left end, Bob Webb at left tackle, Vernon Ashby at left guard, Maurice Young at center, Jack Clark at right guard, Charles Pride at right tackle, Ernest Barrett at right end, with Bob Cooper at quarter, Dick Stein and Larry Dresser at halfback, Wayne Piper at fullback.

Games Tomorrow Long Beach Poly at Santa Ana, San Diego Hillers at Alhambra, San Diego Hoover at Long Beach Wilson.

Revolving his lineup with three changes in the line and one in the backfield, William Warren (Bill) Foote sends his Santa Ana Saints up against Long Beach Poly's fancy-prancing Jackrabbits in the Municipal bowl at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

All reports indicate we'll be doing well to hold Long Beach to three touchdowns, but anything can happen if my boys keep on their toes," Foote said. He was referring to the game of 1933 in which the Saints applied a 7-6 upset on a highly-favored Long Beach aggregation.

Comparative 1936 records give Long Beach a tremendous edge:

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By I. N. (BRICK) GAINES

BEFORE we take up the regular business of the day, which I'm afraid will be the Orange County League of Municipalities, let's read something that Chet Congdon, Capistrano line tracker and correspondent for The Journal, sends in.

But, before we re-print Chet, it's better to explain that Editor Verne Beck of Capistrano writes a weekly column for L'il Chillum. I'm horribly fond of Verne's sermons, and re-print 'em every chance I get. It seems that I may have done something wrong, maybe, from Chet's letter—take a look at it:

"Verne Beck, editor of the Coastline Dispatch and writer of 'L'il Chillum' stories, who has many of his compositions copied by the county editor of The Santa Ana Journal, supposedly just to fill space in a column the county editor draws big money for preparing, but truly because he has a somewhat pointed moral attached, has this week written a story with a moral especially for the above mentioned county editor.

"It will appear in today's issue of the Coastline Dispatch, so get your order in early for this paper, for once the story gets circulated, additional copies are going to be impossible to obtain. Just as a hint, we will state the moral of the story is 'Always wear your nightshirt, or something'."

Now I'm all of a jitter. I'll be biting my fingernails until I find out which nightshirt story Editor Beck's printing?

And now for the League of Municipalities, which met last night in the K. of P. hall in Tustin.

First, that meeting was a big— a colossal disappointment to me because of the fact that Mayor A. C. Boice of Orange and Councilman Cal Lester didn't sit next to each other.

At the last meeting, Councilman Cal had a very lovely time kicking the mayor's shins. I was hoping that the mayor might get even, this time!

However, the stately Mayor Boice set a new record for himself last night. He smoked his second cigar! He wouldn't tell when he'd smoked the other, but he was well repaid for his sacrifice this time.

Rodney Bacon, Santa Ana, was exhibiting his prize cigar lighter. Mayor Boice admired it. Finally, thinking he was safe, Bacon said he'd give the mayor the trinket if Boice would smoke a cigar. The mayor took him up on the proposition right away.

He didn't cough or even sputter while consuming the filthy weed. But I noticed he started smoking a cigar right afterward. Probably to take the taste out of his mouth!

The league, coupled with the Peace Officers' association, had a fine meeting. Good talks, good food and lot of fun. Mayor Fred Rowland from Santa Ana and Chief of Police George Franzen from Orange took turns presiding. Lotsa policemen attending. Including Sergeant Johnny Gregory from Fullerton, who showed up to exhibit the new Fullerton uniforms, I think!

S'funny—only two Fullerton cops were there. George Lillie and Harry Maxwell—at least, that's all I saw. They're the two who want the new city hall to be in one place. The rest of the council, three of 'em, want it in another. Maybe the boys aren't speaking?

But Billy Hale, former mayor and former head of the league, was there. Also a couple of supervisors, Bill Jerome and N. E. West. Jerome and Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz from Los Angeles had a good natured argument on how old they weren't. Bill Holmes and Judge Fred Warner were there, representing San Clemente. Charlie Griffith, city clerk, Mayor Charles Mann, Councilman Marshall, completely equipped with sideburns, Engineer Hap Haggood and Chief of Police Jim Bouldin represented Anaheim. Gosh, there were more folks than you'd ordinarily see in a month—mayors by the dozen—Charlie Young from Placentia, Elmer Hughes from Seal Beach, Willis Warner from Huntington Beach, Mayor Harry Maxwell from Fullerton, Mayor William Huntley from Tustin and several more.

'N then there were five of the county boys—Sheriff Logan Jackson, Coroner Earl Abbey, Clerk Joe Backs, and the like. Police chiefs, constables—Walter Skillman from Fullerton didn't say a word about fishing, which was a disappointment—and lots of the officials brought their wives.

Someone said the joint meeting was held so that policemen would not be afraid of city councilmen any more. I should think it'd be the other way around!

I also learned a thing or two, by listening. Like, for instance, when City Attorney Lou Blodgett from Santa Ana confessed that he was, at one time, an Epworth league president. And when Councilman Joe Smith, also from Santa Ana, said something about teaching a Sunday school class!

150 APPLAUD SHERIFF BISCAILUZ AT MEETING IN TUSTIN

AMENDMENTS EXPLAINED BY BURKE

Peace Officers and City Officials Join for Two Addresses

TUSTIN.—Stirring his audience with a plea for more trust and cooperation between police departments and city councils, Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, Los Angeles, addressed more than 150 county peace officers and League of Municipalities members here last night.

Pointing out that law enforcement workers of today are faced with the necessity of making a profession of their work, and the need for security in positions to guarantee the maximum of public service, Sheriff Biscailuz urged consideration of some plan for a merit, or civil service system for all officers, to do away with the "spoils system" now in effect, where complete departments may be cast out following municipal elections.

Tells of Growth
Sheriff Biscailuz also told of growth of his department from a small force of seven men to today's huge organization, the largest in the United States. He remarked that lack of "rackets" in Southern California is due principally to the fact that the highest class of workers are employed for law enforcement.

The speaker was introduced by George Franzen, president of the Orange County Peace Officers' association. Chief Franzen, who presided during the program, also introduced Sheriff Logan Jackson, Ray L. Burg, president of the Los Angeles county organization; Dave McMillan, vice president; V. G. Wolfe, secretary and Miss Billie Muffelman, sergeant-at-arms, of the local group.

Burke Speaks
Louis Burke, general counsel for the State League of Municipalities, addressed members on constitutional amendments which are of direct interest to city officials. Urging that voters inspect measures with a view to discovering the motive for their introduction, the speaker told of growth of the state constitution from a 7500-word document in 1849 to 70,000 words today, urging careful consideration before including any more laws in the already bulky system.

Burke explained the state league's stand against proposition No. 7, which calls for mandatory civil service. The proposed law will kill the merit system in California, he said, and although the league favors some form of civil service, directors recommend a negative vote on the amendment.

Opposes No. 10
A negative vote also recommended on proposition No. 10, the anti-tax diversion measure, he said. At first the league endorsed the measure, but later changed when it was discovered the law would take money from the state general fund and place it under control of the state highway department, Burke explained. He also discussed other amendments which will appear on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Mayor Fred Rowland, Santa Ana, presided at the latter part of the meeting, introducing George Schmidt, mayor of Oceanside and president of the San Diego league. Supervisors W. C. Jerome and N. E. West, Clyde Watson, assemblyman James B. Utt, T. L. McFadden and Thomas Kuchel also were introduced.

Mayor William Huntley, Tustin, welcomed members of both groups, and entertainment was furnished by the Orange county saxophone quintet. The next meeting will be held Nov. 19 in Orange, Mayor A. C. Boice announced.

FEDERAL AID AWAITED AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—City Engineer R. L. Patterson arrived here today following a flying trip to Washington, D. C., where he appeared before the National Rivers and Harbors commission in behalf of a federal maintenance fund for Newport harbor and a program to carry out additional dredging in the harbor and make it possible for larger boats to use the port. Patterson flew to the capital Saturday with Secretary Harry Welch of the Newport Harbor chamber of commerce.

Decision on whether or not Newport Harbor will receive federal maintenance money in the amount of $25,000 per year and whether or not additional dredging will be carried out rests largely with the recommendation made by other government bodies by the Rivers and Harbors commission, which is out here today. Appearance of the local men was the first step in the campaign to secure the money.

Additional harbor work would embrace the dredging of a 15-foot deep channel from the Newport Harbor Yacht club basin to the Newport end of the city and dredging of a larger and deeper turning basin at the inner end of the entrance channel. Cost of the additional dredging work would be approximately $127,000 Patterson estimated at the committee meeting.

The Girl of the Rocking Arrow

By JAMES L. RUBEL

John Tedgar, cowboy, framed into prison for bank robbery that he didn't commit, finishes his term determined to find the real bandit. He assumed the name of Roy Dillon and gets a job on the Rocking Arrow ranch, owned by pretty Sarah Riddle. One day $5000 disappears from Sarah's safe, and Pecos Glasell, her foreman, persuades Sarah that Roy is the thief. Roy, embittered by Sarah's belief in his guilt—for he has fallen in love with her—leaves and camps out on a ledge overlooking the ranch house. When Mescal, handy man on the ranch, brings him the news that Pecos is trying to force Sarah to marry him to save herself from bankruptcy, Roy angrily asks that it is nothing to him and, packing his belongings, starts to ride away.

entirely familiar to Roy and he did not wish to be heard. Finally, he reached a narrow ledge. The tramp of hoofs was much louder now. Cattle were moving in the draw below him, urged on by the curses and quirts of men. He slipped from his horse and edged down silently through the brush. Once he thought he distinguished Gimp's guttural voice, but he couldn't be sure. The cattle were nearer now, their white faces like blobs of grayness in the darkness.

Someone was rustling the Rocking Arrow cattle. Of that he was certain. He smiled grimly and slipped his six-gun from its holster. The crash of it echoed up the draw as he thumbed the hammer.

As the gun flashed, he dove headlong and, crouching, changed his position. A yelled curse followed the boom of his gun. Farther up the draw, a gun laced the night with its orange streak. Roy shouted, his voice echoing up the canyon.

"Hightail it, you sneak'n' coyotes!" Swiftly, he again changed his position. From behind a rock closer to where the gun had flashed, he sent another slug winging towards the man who had fired.

Someone yelled a hoarse command. Roy heard the thud of hoofs and the rustle of the brush as bodies went hurtling through it. He chuckled, ejecting the empty shells from his gun, and reloading. "I reckon I gave those hombres a scare," he mused softly. "There most likely won't be any more rustlin' tonight."

Within an hour, he was again fast asleep in his lean-to. As the morning sun tinted the range with mauve and saffron, Roy was astir. He had decided to leave his hiding place on top of the hogback. His warbag with his razor and personal effects were still in the bunk house at the Rocking Arrow. He wanted them.

While he was finishing his after-breakfast smoke, he saw Pecos, Gimp and Mescal ride off toward the range. Even from a distance, it was easy to see that Pecos was in a black mood. He shook his fist at the Mexican.

Roy saw nothing of Sarah. It was Sunday, and she was no doubt taking her ease on the veranda. When the foreman and his men had had plenty of head start, Roy saddled his horse and dropping down through the brakes and gullies, approached the ranch building.

She seemed to hesitate. "I might overlook your empermentened. Pecos—you have run the spread in fair shape except for the rustling. But I have no money to pay you. You know that. I'll try to raise enough tomorrow to pay you off. The Rocking Arrow will have to go under the hammer."

The foreman sidled closer to her. "Shucks, Sarah! Why don't yuh listen to me? I'm crazy 'bout yuh. I'll make yuh a good husband. Together we kin run this spread and make plenty of money. This ain't woman's work. Yore too pretty to be worry'n' yore head over cattle!" Roy glared his eye to the keyhole and listened intently. He was afraid he might not hear Sarah's reply, and he wanted to. Somehow, it meant a lot to him. (To Be Continued)

At that hour a name contest, conducted by The Journal and radio station KVOE, will come to a close, and the boys will begin selecting a name for themselves from the hundreds of entries. To the winner will go a cash award of $25, and the name will be announced when the boys play at 7:15 p. m. Saturday from KVOE. At the same time the award will be presented the winner. On Monday night over station KHJ the group, as Orange county's entry, will compete in the "California's Hour" semi-final contest. Left to right, they are: Chuck Borland, Fullerton; Hank Rankin, Norman Noyce and Stan Logsdon, Santa Ana, and Dale Twigg, Anaheim.

Lathrop Junior High News

Under the supervision of Miss Lella Thrasher the Low 9 H social studies class has completed the drafting of a new constitution for the Lathrop student body. Copies of the constitution have been passed to all classes for study and discussion. At the next meeting of the student body it will be voted upon.

Miss Pearl Nicholson's class plans to visit the new city hall on Friday, Oct. 24. This trip will be made as an integration experiment with the study of civil government. This class also plans a Hallow-e'en party for Oct. 30. Arrange-ments for this outing will be made by Janet Anderson and her program committee and Jack Eller, recreation chairman.

As chairman of the library committee, Rakumi Sasaki has arranged with the librarian, Miss Leona Calkins, for a reading period in the library every two weeks. Books are selected at this time for the class's reading table and for individual use.

Classes studying Stevenson's Black Arrow under the direction of Mrs. Grace Wolff and Mrs. Marguerite Hill have been making booklets of original sketches and verses. Dramatizations of various parts of the story have been offered by members of the class as their part of the activity connected with the reading of the story.

Low 8 science classes with Mr. Scott's aid have been making a study of earth formations. How to figure diameter and circumference have been a part of this study. Low 7 classes are studying Orange county and the Southern California coast line.

Officers for Miss Hazel Thrasher's 8th grade Hobby club have been chosen as follows: president, Lloyd Jaden; vice president, Paul Schwartz; secretary, Lawrence Worthon; program chairman, Jimmie Main; and sergeant, Bobbie Jacobs. In the same order, officers for the other two classes are Billie Crory, Billy Bob McPhee, Bruce Cleary, Jimmie Adams and Bruce Canahan, Kenneth Crumley, Wally Hamaker, Homer Chaney, Tommy Johnston and Jackie Musick.

The object of the club is for each boy to become interested in a particular hobby and to develop that interest. Exhibitions are planned, speakers are brought before the clubs and a great deal of reading is done in connection with this work.

Winners of first and second place in the treasure hunt for reading reference held in Miss Blythe's Low 8 class recently were Margaret Hawk, first place, and Betty Hillhouse, second place.

At a student body assembly last Friday, Lathrop students enjoyed very much two xylophone numbers by Richard Watson, and a most instructive talk on poisonous insects and reptiles by Mr. Puckert of Orange. Examples of several types of reptiles and insects claimed the fascinated attention of the audience. Mr. Puckert explained the treatment for bites and

G-MAN CHIEF URGES CURB ON YOUTH

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Severe punishment, promptly administered, was recommended today by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, as "good medicine" for youthful extortionists.

Hoover, who previously has advocated "better understanding" between police departments and young boys, said that extortion "is much too serious a crime to be passed over lightly."

"Great Menace"

"One of the greatest menaces in the current national crime picture," he said, "is the youthful extortionist. He should be prosecuted and made an example of, not be treated as a prankster."

"Receipt of an extortion note can cause almost as much grief and distress in a family as kidnapping. Families are agonized by extortion letters for they cannot be sure the threats won't be carried out, nor can they tell what form of tragedy is impending."

"Youthful extortionists should not be condoned. They should be punished promptly and severely like any other criminal, not left with a parental lecture or easy discipline."

Hoover in a recent address at New York City said 700,000 boys and girls were enrolled in a vast army of criminals.

Gracia Trio to Play Tonight

The second radio program by the Gracia Trio of Oceanview, scheduled on KVOE this evening at 8:15, will offer another variety of numbers as played by their unusual combination of instruments—accordion, mandolin and steel guitar.

Specializing in familiar and well liked melodies, the trio will play "Mexicali Rose," "Till We Meet Again," "In My Mammy's Arms," "O Solo Mio" and others.

String Ensemble on Air Tonight

In a special presentation, the Salon String Ensemble will play a distinctive group of variety selections tonight on KVOE at 8:15, featuring a grotesque fantasy called "Gruenesque." Although its title is a little startling, it leaves to the listener the privilege of interpreting its descriptions.

Other selections will include "Scarecrows on Parade," "Hotsy" and "Crying for the Moon."

WOMAN PARTY LEADER HERE

Mrs. Eileen Cardiff, chairman of California Democratic precinct organization, southern women's division, was in Santa Ana Thursday conferring with Mrs. Claudia Worwick, chairman of Orange county precinct organization, and with Joe Peterson, county Democratic campaign secretary.

She said Democratic precinct workers in Southern California have opportunity of sharing in $100 in prizes, offered by Supervisor Herbert C. Legg, of Los Angeles county, as a reward for efforts in the forthcoming election.

A first prize of $50, a second prize of $30, and third prize of $20 will be awarded the precinct organizations that succeed in voting the highest percentages of the Democratic registrations in their respective precincts. The territory covered by the awards is the 11 counties of Southern California.

U.S. GROUP MAY BUY AIRSHIPS

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The Newark Star Eagle said it had learned on good authority American interests may buy from German builders two dirigibles similar to the Hindenburg and enter the trans-Atlantic transport field.

It is understood, the newspaper said in a copyrighted article, that Dr. Hugo Eckener, head of the German Zeppelin Corporation, and his associates have presented the proposal to department of commerce officials and certain commercial interests during recent weeks.

FINGERPRINTS FOR DRIVERS IS URGED

Motor Vehicle Chief Says It Would Help Protect Motorists

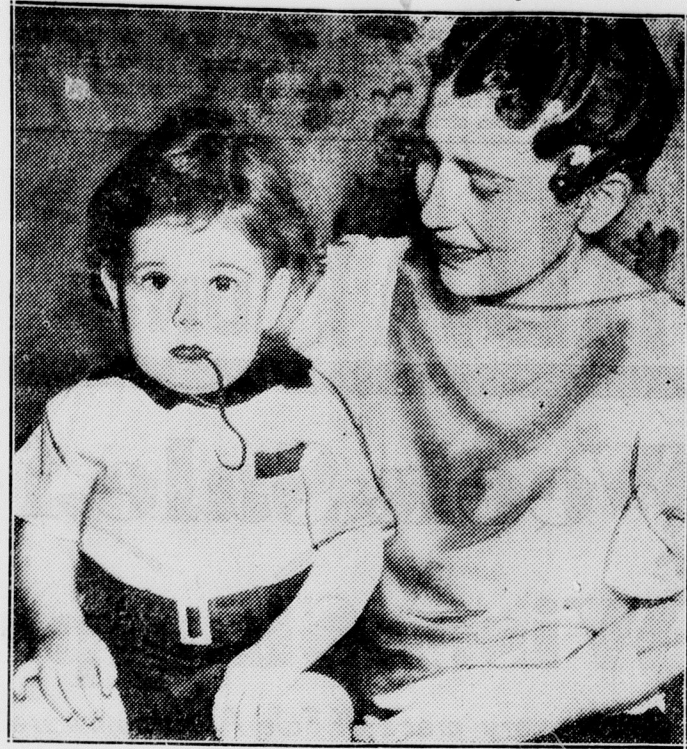

SAN JOSE, (AP)—Fingerprinting of all drivers of automobiles in California would help protect California motorists, Director Ray Ingels of the state department of motor vehicles said yesterday in an address before the twenty-ninth annual convention of the California Association of Insurance Agents.

"I am of the opinion that fingerprinting will be of as much benefit to the individual fingerprinted and the identification work we are pursuing as it will be a detriment to the criminal operating in this state and the man or woman who is trying to evade our motor vehicle laws," Ingels said.

Ingels said duplication of names, meager description of individuals, and other conflicting conditions had caused embarrassment to many motorists.

The director added his department hoped soon to eliminate all outside agencies giving drivers' examinations and issuing licenses. It now handles about 60 per cent.

Bead a Day Saves Boy's Life

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A "diet" of steel beads was credited today with saving the life of 20-month-old Robert Fowler, son of a FWA clerk.

Robert's throat was seriously burned when he mistook a can of lye for food. Scar tissue forming in the esophagus caused the organ to contract, so that he could not eat and his weight dropped from 32 to 15 pounds.

Performing a medical feat which authorities describe as rare, a physician ran a linen thread down the child's throat, through the esophagus and stomach and out a rubber tube inserted in the abdomen.

Then a small steel bead was placed on the string and drawn down the youngster's throat. Afterward 26 beads, each a little larger than the preceding one, were placed on the string over a period of many days and drawn down the throat.

Gradually, it was explained, the esophagus has become enlarged. "Now," said the child's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler, "my baby has gained all his weight and eats anything he wants."

These people will have the privilege of being excused the last 20 minutes of the sixth period every Thursday and "Great Exhibition," Oct. 22, according to Mrs. Scott.

WILL PRODUCE 'WHO'S WHO?'

The operetta, "Who's Who?" will be repeated by the combined Willard Glee clubs on Dec. 4, Miss Davis announced recently.

The music was written by Miss Gladys Campbell of Roosevelt school and the lyrics by Harold Fish of the First National bank. It was presented five years ago and met with great success. The play concerns the affairs of two women who run a matrimonial agency.

The original cast was Hubert Nall, the policeman; Elbert Stuart, the janitor; Jean Phillips, the cook, and Betty Lee, the maid. Others in the cast were Phillip Smith, Valerie Demetriou, Carl Kennedy, Jeanette Klatt, Albert Pickhart, Leola Schroeder, Bob McNeill, Frank Marr and Bill Hawkins.

Miss Davis hopes the present cast can repeat the success of the original cast.

HONOR SOCIETY LIST NAMED

Mrs. M. L. Scott, adviser, recently named the Willard school Honor society members for the low nine and low eight classes.

Those in the ninth grade included Bruce Adkinson, Dick Anderson, Chester Briner, Margie Buck, Ted Clucas, Lucille Crawford, Mary Frances Dixon, Carol Jean Hammett, Mary Hunter, Alice Iverson, Helen Lopez, Bobby McCowan, Marjorie Metzgar, Betty Mitchell, Joe Mixer, Marjorie Mize, Constance O'Donnell, Isabella Rellstab, Henry Segerstrom, Eileen Smith, Hilda Tibbels, Virginia Watkins and Robert Yensen.

The eighth graders are Dexter Ball, Melva Burk, Rafaila Chavez, Jack Howard, Paul Higashi, Clarence Harvey, Billy Gordon, Betty Jo Froeschle, Dorothy Eley, Dorothy Crouch, Ruth Williams, Mary Tayada, Sallie Thorman, Dorothy Raitt, Paul Patton, Jack Neff, Lila Marie Moore, Albert Topez and Dorothy Jessee.

These people will have the privilege of being excused the last 20 minutes of the sixth period every Thursday and "Great Exhibition," Oct. 22, according to Mrs. Scott.

New Deal Accused of Going Back on Jefferson Ideals; Bourbons Claim Prosperity

By THE DEMOCRATS

The Roosevelt administration has been blazing a trail to prosperity and security, and it still faces toward progress. The American people are on the march, and are moving forward with Roosevelt, recovery and reform. To use the words of Senator Borah: "We are not going back."

It is true that there is powerful opposition to the New Deal; but that opposition does not come from foreclosing sale; or from the million and a half young men who have obtained employment at reforestation and soil conservation CCC camps; or from the millions who have received employment through the Public Works agencies; or from people in the regions where life and property are made safe by flood control and by drought relief.

International Bankers

It is equally certain that the opposition does not come from the millions now receiving cheap electrical energy because of the Tennessee Valley authority and other instrumentalities of the government; or from the millions of depositors whose savings in banks are guaranteed by the federal deposit insurance; or from the small independent merchants and storekeepers no longer faced with bankruptcy; or from the millions now gainfully employed and assured a living wage; or from farmers and ranchers now able to sell their products at a reasonable profit.

The opposition comes from the international bankers who sold the American people worthless foreign securities; the disposal of which they underwrite in return for concessions abroad; or from the Insull utility companies, or from holding companies which dealt in watered stocks and juggled assets; or from the munition manufacturers who are opposed to neutrality and to taking the enormous profits out of war; or from the monopolists who object to paying a living wage; or from the great profiteers who object to paying income and inheritance taxes.

By THE REPUBLICANS

Every Democrat should commit to memory the following words of Thomas Jefferson. These were incorporated by the founder and father of the party into a letter that he wrote to Elbridge Gerry on the eve of the national election that made him president. Every New Deal "Democrat" should blush for shame on reading them. Every Jeffersonian Democrat has them given on his heart.

"I do then, with sincere zeal, wish an inviolable preservation of our federal constitution, according to the true sense in which it was adopted by the states.

"I am opposed to monarchizing its features.

"I am not for transferring all the powers of the state to the general government, and all those of that government to the executive branch.

"I am for a government rigorously frugal and simple, applying all the possible savings of the public revenue to the discharge of the national debt, and not for a multiplication of officers and salaries merely to make partisans.

Freedom Stressed

"I am not for increasing the public debt on the principle that it is a public blessing.

"I am not for linking ourselves by new treaties with the quarrels of Europe, entering that field of slaughter to preserve their balance or joining in the confederacy of kings to war against the principles of liberty.

"I am for freedom of religion—freedom of the press—and against all violations of the constitution.

"The first object of my heart is my country."

With national election time approaching and the air lanes all a-shimmer with new, delightful promises and bright New Deal denials, the above words are indeed prophetic. They form an indictment of the New Deal and its chief executive that should stir every Democratic voter to the quick. They ring forth a clear, sane challenge to every waster of the public funds, every "Little Dictator" at the capital, every violator of the constitution, every un-American utterance and practice, every bok-bond theorist, and "Great Experimenter" in the New Deal cabinet. They are a call to action for every red-blooded (not red shirted) American of whatever political party, who believes in America for Americans. The Jeffersonian Democrats of California have adopted these words of Thomas Jefferson as their creed.

Bullet in Head Halts Phone Talk

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—A bullet interrupted R. M. (Bob) Curtis' telephone conversation with a friend in New York yesterday and a hotel bellboy who investigated found the former Chicago stockbroker dying, shot through the head.

A letter dated Oct. 5, and said reliably to refer to financial difficulties, was found under Curtis' left hand.

Rhinestone brooches promise to rival clips for popularity this autumn.

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

All real estate men in Santa Ana should hear Edgar Dix speak at the Townsend mass meeting in Santa Ana tomorrow night. Dix was former immigration agent for the Northern Pacific Railroad company. Some years back he came to California and soon became connected with some of the leading real estate concerns as a lecturer, and in this capacity he helped open some of the best subdivisions in the Los Angeles area. He knows the real estate business and its present problems. He believes the Townsend plan to be a stabilizing element needed to help stimulate the industrial development of the great Southwest and other parts of the nation. He is a man with big ideas, and has a personality and voice to put them over in an effective manner.

The Townsend plan functioning in the life of the nation would doubtless create the biggest urge in home buying and building that this or any other nation ever experienced. It would stabilize the real estate business as nothing else could. California real estate men have always sought ways by which the state's population might be increased by immigration from other states of a class of people who would not add to its welfare and problems. There are thousands upon thousands of elderly folk now residing in places where climatic conditions are much inferior to what California has to offer for people of age.

Under present economic conditions most of these elderly people

Crop Insurance Meets Planned

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The commission named by the President to suggest a crop insurance program to Congress announced it would call representatives of insurance companies, warehouse industry, and national farm organizations here early in November for informal conferences.

COMMUNISTS BAN BALLYHOO

MOSCOW, (AP)—Russia's Communist party wants quality not quantity, and "ballyhoo" tactics to attract new members are out. In a stiff decree, the central committee warned party chairmen to halt mass recruiting appeals, mass meetings and noisy publicity designed to influence elections.

must remain where living conditions for them are not so ideal. But with the Townsend pension as a reality in the life of the elderly, conditions would be different. Each couple residing elsewhere would become potential prospects as home buyers in California. And their ability to maintain themselves would be established. Such comes to the Pacific coast would not be liabilities, but valuable assets not only to real estate men but to all other classes of business. The writer doesn't know what the speaker's message will be, but he knows it will fit the situation, and that every business man—and that includes those of the realty profession—should hear him tomorrow night.

Santa Ana club No. 9 is celebrating its return to its old meeting place in the Edison school on East St. George place at 7:30 tonight with a big meeting. President Weir will preside. A large array of speaking talent has been secured for the occasion. Steele Finley, candidate for supervisor from the district, Harry C. Westover, Democratic nominee for the state senate, and F. L. Carrier, member of the Santa Ana schools dramatics teaching staff, will address the gathering. This information came from Fred Vollmer, former president of the club and also former member of the 19th congressional district board.

The writer was told that club No. 7 might go down and help club No. 9 celebrate tonight, but anyway, he suggests that Townsendites from all over Santa Ana bind up the club's meeting and hear these speakers. And there's something else on the program worth while: The Sid Messenger orchestra is scheduled to give one of its snappy musical programs prior to the speaking.

The writer wishes to correct an erroneous impression being circulated around by some folk who are misinformed. They have stated that the women connected with Townsend potluck affairs in Townsend hall and elsewhere are being paid for their services. This is entirely untrue. These women are giving their hard work and services for the good of the Townsend cause. They do not ask for compensation and do not get any. No group is more unselfish in its devotion to the welfare of the Townsend cause than are the women who engineer these pot-luck dinners of Townsend gatherings. Such affairs take long hours of hard work on the part of the women, and in some instances the writer knows that some women have paid for their own dinners, besides donating food for the affair and their own services. And that is asking too much of some of these women, the writer thinks. At any rate he hopes those who have been so unjust in circulating such stories about the women being paid will be more sure hereafter about the truth of their remarks.

The writer today saw one of the first copies of the Victory edition of the Townsend Weekly to reach Santa Ana. It is an eight-page affair and is copyrighted from front to back. This step was taken to protect against possible misuse of its material by both friends and foes of the Townsend plan. It is being sold to the Townsend clubs all over the nation at very low cost so as to make possible a wide distribution of its message prior to the November election. It is estimated that more than 5,000,000 copies of the edition will be printed and circulated between now and the day of election. In its contents there is an explanation by Dr. Townsend for his attitude toward presidential candidates. Doubtless its contents and the doctor's explanation will result in many votes being influenced favorably to the same candidates the doctor favors.

The El Toro Townsend club will meet tonight at 7:30. L. C. Carlisle of Santa Ana will be the speaker.

TEST PATERNITY THROUGH NOSE

BERLIN, (AP)—A new "paternity test"—using the nose as the basis of determination—was announced by Dr. Wolfgang Abel, expert on biological heredity in the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Anthropology.

After extensive research, Doctor Abel depreciated the "blood count" theory of determining paternity, and in evolving his new theory, seized upon the nose as the best signpost of origin.

"The shape of the nostrils, the length, breadth and depth of the nose, its general contour—all these details have a decisive value in tracing paternity," Doctor Abel said.

After the nose, he said, the lips are the best bet for revealing paternity.

Settle Huge Oil Tax Controversy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The board of tax appeals yesterday announced settlement of a $3,000,000 income tax controversy with the Standard Oil company of New York.

The board said it had been agreed that the income and profits tax deficiencies of the company for 1920, 1926 and 1928 were $998,183; that no deficiency had been found for 1927, and that the company had overpaid taxes due in 1923 by $37,268. Taxes for other years were not in controversy.

State Red Cross Gains Members

PASADENA, (AP)—The Red Cross enrolled 19,000 members in seven western states during the past year and of these 12,000 were in California, including 10,000 in Southern California, Mrs. Esther P. Chadbourne reported. Mrs. Chadbourne is field representative for the district.

ORANGE COUNTY TRUCK OPERATORS HAVE $3,500,000 INVESTMENT

PAY SALARIES OF $330,000 ANNUALLY

Railroad Commission Officer Explains Regulations

Orange county has 128 truck business operators with 215 employees earning an average of five dollars per day or more than $330,000 a year. Equipment, rolling stock and buildings represent an investment of $3,500,000, according to H. W. Kerrigan, statistician for the state railroad commission, who was in Santa Ana this week gathering facts regarding the truck business.

The highway carriers act of 1935 conferred upon the commission the power to regulate motor vehicles operating upon the highways and transporting property for compensation. Kerrigan explained.

Carriers Classified

There are several classes of these carriers, all of which are required to have permits issued by the commission. Warren K. Brown is director of transportation under this act.

Violators of the highway carriers act are penalized for hauling without permits, plates, cab cards, insurance, for cutting rates, giving rebates or commissions, or accepting them, charging excessive rates, not showing plates on trucks, and using permits unlawfully, explained Kerrigan.

The maximum penalty is six months in jail, a fine of $500 or both.

Divisions Explained

The various classes of carriers are designated as highway common carriers, radial highway common carriers, highway contract carriers, city carriers and foreign commerce carriers.

The highway common carrier is a certificated carrier operating between fixed terminals, over regular routes since 1917, and under the public utility act of 1935. It is the only class to operate between fixed terminals or over regular routes. This class can haul for all persons infrequently between fixed terminals, or over regular routes regularly.

Restrictions Shown

The radial highway common carrier can haul for anybody, but not between fixed terminals or over regular routes regularly.

The highway contract carrier contracts with a limited number of firms, as a common carrier, is entitled to operate between fixed terminals or over regular routes regularly within a general

+ + Our Presidents + +

Theodore Roosevelt was Youngest President

By ROBERT GARDNER

Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest man ever to reach the White House. He succeeded the martyred McKinley in 1901 at the age of 42, and was easily reelected in 1904.

He was a "Rough Rider," a hunter of wild game, horseman, tennis player, advocate of large families, and took a keen interest in many things outside of his work in office.

His outstanding act was to start the Panama canal. He bitterly fought trusts and monopolies. The departments of commerce and labor were created and the interstate commerce commission was empowered to fix railroad rates. The Alaska boundary dispute was settled. He believed the best way to protect the nation and secure peace was to be well prepared.

He was eternally active. He wrote, explored in Africa and South America and in 1917 was unsuccessful in an effort to get permission to raise a division of troops for the World War. He also helped edit a magazine, and was popular because of his activity.

His ideas of national strength demanded respect from foreign nations. His principle of "might makes right" later became part of the national policy.

Born Oct. 27, 1858, he was the son of Theodore Roosevelt, a merchant, and Martha Bullock. Educated at Harvard, he was a lawyer, rancher and author. He was a member of the Dutch Reformed church. He married Alice Hathaway Lee in 1883, and they had one daughter. By his second wife, Edith Kermit Carow, whom he married in 1886, he had four sons and one daughter. In the 1904 election, he got 336 out of 476 electoral votes. He died Jan. 6, 1919.

LENKE CRITICIZES

BROWDER PERSECUTION

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—William Lenke, Union party presidential candidate, criticized what he described as "persecution" of Earl Browder, Communist party presidential candidate. "This is a democracy. Browder has as much right to talk as I have," he said. "Persecution always aids an organization. That kind of treatment will only strengthen communism."

VOTING MACHINES FOR

L. A. COUNTY URGED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The county department of budget and research reported to the board of supervisors yesterday that the only solution of the problem of obtaining a quick count of election returns in Los Angeles county is by mechanical tabulation of votes.

LENKE-CAUGHLIN STAR HAS SET, SAYS THOMAS
NEW YORK (AP)—Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate, said that the "brightest fact I discovered during my tour was that the Lenke-Coughlin star has set." "Rep. Lenke would have received from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 more votes for the presidency if the election had taken place Sept. 15," Thomas said returning from a campaign tour.

EMERGENCE OF NEW PARTY IS FORECAST

NEW YORK (AP)—Hjalmar Peterson, farmer-labor governor of Minnesota, predicted today the emergence of a national Farmer-Labor party before the 1940 election. "Either that," he said at a press conference, "or there will be a clear alignment in the next election, reactionaries on one side and liberals on the other, irrespective of party names."

NAVY TO PROBE VOTE PLOT IN SHIPYARDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy department said an investigation would be made of assertions by a marine workers union that shipyards holding government contracts were laying off workmen in an effort to destroy confidence in the Roosevelt administration.

LIBERAL GROUP IN STATE TO SUPPORT ROOSEVELT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—George T. Davis, labor attorney and chairman of the California Conference of Liberals and Progressives, announced the formation of an executive committee "to plan and execute a vigorous program aimed especially at the capture of liberal votes for President Roosevelt, regardless of party affiliation."

$25,000 Burglary In Actor's Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Arnold Kundry, insurance broker, announced the home of Gary Cooper, film star, was entered by burglars recently and looted of property valued at $25,000. The actor and his wife are in New York. Most of the loss, Kundry said, was in jewelry and furs.

KIWANIS AND LIONS TIED IN GOLF

Annual Stag Party Held
At Country Club by Service Clubs

Their appetites whetted by a golf tournament which ended in a 7½-7½ draw with the Kiwanis club, Santa Ana Lions last night consumed quantities of steak at their annual stag party at Santa Ana Country club.

Ben Manker, chairman of the tournament committee, also announced a four-way tournament to be held soon, in which Rotary, 20-30, Kiwanis and Lions teams will compete, the winner to be given a plaque.

Don Jerome, elated over a gross 82 and a net 63 for the afternoon, acted as program chairman, making several speeches. A WPA hill-billy orchestra played "O Susanna," among other things, while Joe Peterson, Democratic headquarters manager, who arranged for the music, glowed.

The affair was informal.

Saving or Spending to
Be Topic of Meeting
At High School

Homer C. Chaney, director of Orange county public forums, will again be the forum leader at the Monday session to be held in the Santa Ana High school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. The subject is "Shall We Save or Spend, an American Dilemma."

Since 1929 there have been many attacks upon thrift, which has been taught as a prime virtue since the days of Benjamin Franklin.

Statistics concerning the savings of the past six years will be presented. An analysis will be made of the interrelation of savings to production, consumption and purchasing power. Consideration will also be given to current theories concerning wage scales, cooperatives and socialized savings.

E. M. Sundquist will preside. The general public is invited to attend. There is no admission fee.

Mrs. Yeagle, Mrs. Davis Hostesses

Affair on Thursday Is One of Largest of Fall Functions

Two of Santa Ana's most chadming hostesses, Mrs. C. V. Davis of North Broadway, and Mrs. Rowland P. Yeagle of Bonnie Brae, joined yesterday in entertaining at the largest and one of the most delightful affairs of the autumn social season.

Lakewood Country club, near Long Beach, was a pretty setting for the elaborately arranged luncheon and the enjoyable bridge games with which the friends whiled away the afternoon hours.

Sixty-four guests were seated with the hostesses at long tables gay with autumn leaves and the glowing colors of rust, yellow, and bronze chrysanthemums.

After the pleasant luncheon hour, 16 card tables were prepared for contract bridge in the clubhouse lounge, where other bouquets in autumn shades made a colorful background.

Three prizes were awarded at the end of the afternoon, high going to Mrs. F. F. Mead, second high to Mrs. Ray Chandler, and third high to Mrs. Sarah Johnston Haddon.

Assisting Mrs. Yeagle and Mrs. Davis in their hostess duties were Mrs. Ralph Mosher, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, and Mrs. James Harding.

CONTRACT GROUP HAS MEETING

Contract section of Junior Ebelle had a very successful meeting Wednesday evening in the Ebelle lounge. No teacher was present but the members enjoyed a session of contract, and decided to have a teacher instruct them on the "asking bid" at the regular meeting next month.

Mrs. Herbert Stroschein and Mrs. Oliver Lindbeck were hostesses to the group, and served a delicious dessert course, with Halloween motif. Mrs. William Armstrong held high score and Mrs. Mervyn Bryte, second high.

Members present were the Mesdames Lolita Mead, Betty Smedley, Mary Tuthill and the Mesdames Crawford Nalle, Paul Howe, Stanley Norton, Fenton Dean, Perry Davis, Raymond Smith, Quentin Matzen, Lee Smith, John Smith, James McCalla, Charles McDaniel, Aubrey Glines, Chester Horton, Mervyn Bryte, E. L. Russell, E. S. Wakeham, and William Armstrong and the hostesses.

SHOES HIT A NEW HIGH

Shoe tops have been steadily going up this fall. They reach the ankle bone in these walking boots of brown reversed calf (which has a suede like finish). They lace up snugly via brass eyelets and are designed with an eye to the demands of both the college girl and her older sister. This coed wears them with a beige and brown tweed suit and a matching top coat.

Orange County Will Have a Flower Show Next Year

Success of this year's county-wide garden show and enthusiasm carrying over from it to yesterday's meeting of the Orange County Garden club brought about a decision on the part of the members to stage another similar showing next fall.

Reports from the show, which was held in September in the Valencia ballroom, showed net proceeds of $150, which will be put in the fund for next year's project; and suggestions made by the committee members as to needed improvements and changes were recorded for shows to come. The all-day meeting yesterday was held in the Garden Grove Woman's clubhouse, members of that club serving luncheon at noon, and it was decided to hold the early spring meeting in Costa Mesa.

Reports and business took up the morning session presided over by Mrs. J. E. Paul, county president; and in the afternoon, A. J. W. Pieters, representative of a well known seed company, spoke to the members on "Fall Gardening."

For Planting Now
Sweet peas, snapdragons, annual phlox, stock, calendulas, nasturtiums, and godetias are among the seeds to be planted at this time of the year, according to Mr. Pieters, and the latter are especially adaptable to sandy soil.

Speaking for the most part about Dutch bulbs, Mr. Pieters stated that people in this country for the most part plant the bulbs in too shallow soil. They should, he advised, be placed at least seven inches below the surface, and the deeper they are planted the taller the stems they will send up. Soil should be prepared even deeper than they are planted, however, and the ground should be irrigated. The bulbs, he concluded, should not be kept out of the ground too long.

Bulbs in House
King Alfred type is the best daffodil to plant in this territory, he stated. Lilies of the valley are the quickest of the bulb plants to grow in the house, taking only 19 days, and should be placed below the window until they are half grown and then moved up into the light.

Hypocinchons on the other hand, should be grown entirely in the dark, either in water or in very moist soil. When the bud is fully out, the plant may be moved into subdued light and gradually out into full light, he stated. Three months is needed for development to the blooming stage. Asked if other flowers could be planted among the bulbs, he advised against it, pointing out that the many pests that afflict these other growths would spread to and harm the bulb plants. To rid the soil of its insects,

Two Honored Future Bride at Gala Party Is Shower Honoree

Lighted only by Jack-o-lanterns, the L. W. Slabaugh home at 418 West Pine street formed an eerie setting Wednesday evening for a combined Halloween and birthday party honoring the fourteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Lela Slabaugh, daughter of the home.

Ghosts grinned from corners in the darkened rooms, and games played by the 12 school friends who responded to invitations were in keeping with the seasonal theme. Prizes were won by Rosemary Pearce, June Banfield and Darlene Sherrey.

Baskets of chrysanthemums and bonatus in fall colors were arranged through the rooms also, offering pretty contrast to the Halloween figures and symbols.

Lela received an interesting array of pretty gifts which she unwrapped and displayed during the evening.

As Corinne Wendorf's birthday was just the day before, Mrs. Slabaugh included her in the refreshment plan, and there were two identical birthday cakes each with tiny candles numbering 14. With the cakes were served ice cream and candies. Lela and Mary Hunter assisted in serving.

Present besides Lela and the other honored guest, Corinne, were Rosemary Pearce, June Banfield, Irma Jean May, Theadora Pappas, Pat Flaherty, Joyce Hubbard, Mary Hunter, Darlene Sherrey, Phyllis White and Merle Davis.

TEA FOLLOWS BOOK REVIEW PROGRAM

Wearing a costume belonging to the period of the book she reviewed, Mrs. Edith Cloyes gave once again her delightful interpretation of Margaret Mitchell's story of early Georgia, "Gone With the Wind," presenting it this time for the opening meeting of the Ebelle first book review section.

The program was held in the clubhouse lounge, and was given additional charm by a group of songs of the south given by Mrs. Irma Huffman May, accompanied by Mrs. Della Hamilton. Her numbers concluded with a medley of Civil War songs arranged by Joseph Ogle of Santa Ana. Mrs. May was also in a period gown with a poke bonnet.

After the book review, the section members were invited across the street to the charming home of Mrs. Claude Worswick and Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch for tea. Mrs. Ralph Smedley, past leader, and Mrs. Earl Abbey, this year's leader of the section, pouring.

Flowers sent by Miss Martha Ritchie, Mrs. E. E. Sprague, Mrs. Mark Getting, and Mrs. Frank Howard were arranged artistically through the rooms where the members gathered for informal chat and tea.

Miss Beulah May's home on Mabury Road will be the setting for the next meeting, on Nov. 17, at which time Thomas Glenn, English instructor at the junior college, will talk on "Words."

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS AT NICHOLSON HOME

Miss Pearl Nicholson was hostess to the Emanuel bridge club Wednesday evening, when she entertained the members at her home at 1911 Spurgeon street.

Rooms were decorated in the gay Halloween colors and figures, and card tables were spread with yellow cloths and centered with yellow tapers.

Miss Nicholson's mother, Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, assisted in serving a delicious dessert course to the guests on their arrival. During this social hour, Miss Effie Douglas, who was being welcomed home after a three-month absence, entertained the group with informal account of her trip.

Bridge games followed, with Miss Douglas winning first prize and a guest, Mrs. Edith Johnson, winning consolation.

Members present, besides Miss Nicholson, were Miss Effie Douglas, Miss Louise Kaiser, Miss Mary Smart, Miss Marie Peterman, Miss Lee Patton, and Miss Alice Wasser. In the absence of several others, Mrs. Edith Johnson, Miss Marcia Griswell, Mrs. A. Griswell, and Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson were invited to act as guest substitutes.

Mary Stoddard Girl Who Is Waiting for Real Love Is Made Brunt of Friends' Criticism

Far better to be a happy, normal girl at 26 or even 35, than an unhappy wife and possibly a discouraged mother! A young woman of 26 is being twitted by her friends because she is not on the road to matrimony. She's not in love with any particular man and never has been. Any girl who marries simply to avoid being tagged a spinster is a coward and apt to rue the day many times.

LAYETTE SHOWER GIVEN FOR NEWPORT GUEST

Mrs. J. J. Mills presided at a layette shower in her home at 1069 West First street on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. A. R. Lowell of Newport Beach as honored guest in the lovely courtesy.

The stork idea prevailed throughout the afternoon reaching a pretty climax in the refreshments served at the close of the day. In the center of the dining room table, which was decorated in keeping with the theme, was a miniature mirror lake surrounded by cattails and with lilies and lily pads floating on its surface. On one of the pads was a tiny stork, and completing the scene were pink and blue candies in dainty rose petal holders.

Games played during the afternoon were also appropriate to the stork theme, and the gifts brought for the honored guest were brought in a doll buggy prettily decorated in pink and blue crepe paper.

Invited to honor Mrs. Lowell were her mother, Mrs. Jessie O'Neil of Denver; Mrs. H. P. Lowell of Riverside; Mrs. Frank Asher of Pomona; Mrs. Ray Dietrick of Huntington Beach; Mrs. Pearl Lauer of Oceanview; and the following from Santa Ana: Mrs. Charles Freburg and daughter, Eleanor; Mesdames G. W. Lowell, Fred Perryman, George Calhoun, Russell Adkins, D. H. Tibbals, Charles Lawrence, James S. Mills, Dale Elliott, Harry Becker, Edward Coehms, and the hostess.

Mrs. Mills was assisted by her daughter, Miss Martha May Mills, when the prettily appointed refreshments trays were served to the guests.

GARDEN SECTION IS FORMED

The formation of a garden section for Junior Ebelle got off to a very successful start yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Charles McDaniel, curator of the club, entertained prospective members in her home, 2116 North Ross street.

The group elected Mrs. Raymond Terry as leader and program chairman, and agreed to meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 3 p. m.

Practical gardening suggestions dealing with seasonal planting as well as the wider scope of landscaping will be studied during the year, under the guidance of experienced speakers.

Ted Blanding, local landscaping authority, was a most inspiring initial speaker, for he related the history of gardens from the days of ancient Persia, showing the background of our modern Southern California gardens. He stressed the importance of knowledge of design and color harmony in the would-be gardener.

An informal hour of discussion of practical problems with Mr. Blanding proved very instructive during the serving of tea by Mrs. McDaniel and Mrs. Crawford Nalle.

Members who will meet next month with Mrs. Ray Tarr, Tenth and Towne streets, are Mrs. Raymond Terry, Mrs. Crawford Nalle, Mrs. Herbert Stroschein, Mrs. Charles Webber, Mrs. Robert Guild, Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. Gordon X. Richmond, Mrs. Albert Harvey, Mrs. T. E. McLeod, Mrs. John Neuman, Mrs. Burt Zaiser, Mrs. Lee Smith, Mrs. Clarence Ranney and Mrs. Q. L. Hardy.

DESSERT BRIDGE FOR CARD CLUB

Mrs. D. E. Liggett entertained her contract club at a dessert bridge last night in her home on Bonnie Brae, carrying out the autumn color tints in her flowers and tallies.

Games of contract followed a delicious dessert course which was served at one large table, places being marked for the Mesdames Jesse Elliott, Frank Latham, O. F. Turner, C. E. Hayes, Herbert Allemen, Don Mozley and Ray Wolven and the hostess.

DINNER PLANNED IN NOVEMBER

Attention in De Molay circles these days is focusing upon the big annual dinner for chapter members and their parents which is planned for the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 17, in the Masonic temple.

Arrangements for the affair were discussed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Mothers' club, where it was announced that De Molay alumni would do the serving. A letter from Maurice Lyan was read at the meeting, thanking the club for their help during his recently expired term as master councillor of the chapter.

Soph-Frosh Dance on Saturday

Sophomores and freshmen, who, more by tradition than by choice, find themselves on opposite sides in a state of friendly warfare during the opening of weeks of junior college, will sign a truce Saturday night when they join as guests and hosts in the annual Soph-Frosh dance.

Huntington Beach Memorial hall will be the setting for the formal affair, at which officers of the sophomore class will act as official hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Flint will be on the reception committee with the officers, who are Vernon Koepsel, president; John Ramirez, vice-president; Mary Elizabeth Heaney, secretary; and Betty Lee, treasurer, and Frances Wase will have charge of the decorating.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED ON EBELLE SECTION PARTY

Of interest annually in local club circles is the big dessert bridge party which fifth household economics section of the Ebelle club sponsors each fall at the clubhouse, and for which the date of Nov. 5 has been chosen for this year.

Under chairmanship of Mrs. F. F. Mead, who is leader of the section, committees are already at work on arrangements for the affair, which they hope to make the biggest in the section's history.

Mrs. George Raymer is in charge of tickets, with the assistance of Mrs. Lynn Ostrander, Mrs. D. A. Harwood and Miss Clara Richards; Mrs. Howard Stone has charge of tables, with Mrs. F. E. Pimental and Mrs. Herbert Krahling assisting.

Prizes are being arranged by Mrs. Cood Adams and Mrs. N. H. Hilton; decorations by Mrs. H. C. Kirk with assistance of Mrs. Ellis Diehl and Mrs. Carl Klatt.

Mrs. D. E. Liggett, who heads the refreshment committee, will be assisted by Mrs. L. E. Allen and four members of Junior Ebelle—Mrs. Crawford Nalle, junior president, Mrs. Q. L. Hardy, Mrs. Stanley Norton and Mrs. Clarence Ranney.

One o'clock is the hour set for the dessert course, which will be followed by a knit fashion show, presented by Miss Helen Gallagher of the Work Basket, and a musical program by an instrumental trio. The musicians are Fay Spicer, first violin; Audrey Pieper, pianist, and Rose Marie Flint, cello.

Everyone is invited to this party, and reservations are being taken by all members of the committees.

Use Subdued Make-up at The Office

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Good positions are sometimes lost because of careless personal habits or lack of good taste in the way you conduct yourself at your office. You know how important it is that you look well and dress tastefully.

Some offices have rather strict rules about the use of make-up and general office conduct, but whether they do or not, your own good taste should keep you from using your make-up, manicuring your fingernails or nibbling food at your desk.

Keep your hands pretty while you work. Your nails should be filed to a practical length, but you should keep the tips snowy by frequent scrubbing and the use of a good bleach. Keep the cuticles soft and pushed back and keep your nails polished, but do not indulge in vivid red shades.

And do not use perfumes during office hours. If you like a hint of fragrance, use a delicately scented hair lotion to keep your waves in place or use a scented eau de Cologne when you bathe.

Do not use eye make-up at the office. You may use a light touch with the eyebrow pencil to give your brows a definite line, but no beaded lashes and no eye shadow.

And avoid a heavy, lipstick looking application of lipstick. Wear just enough rouge and lipstick to make you look natural. If you are naturally pallid, use make-up to conceal the fact. You can enliven the appearance of your skin by using a make-up base in a peach shade and a warm shade of face powder.

PUBLIC HI-JINX HELD TONIGHT

Hi-jinx and merriment will reign tonight at the Masonic temple for the annual White Shrine public hi-jinx to be held at 8 p. m.

Children Need Special Attention

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M. D.

Frequently, the child that most needs guidance never finds expression for his troubles. The children that come under the doctor's care for many sorts of maladjustment and under-development are victims, usually, of misdirection. They do not know how to tell their own troubles and no one happens to find them out.

There is a long list of real physical disabilities that come to light in these early years which perplex and distress parents because they do not understand their origin. Here is where a personal visit to the schoolroom often brings enlightenment. It is a very difficult matter to adjust seating, lighting, and hearing facilities so that every pupil has just the situation best suited to them.

To the normally sturdy child, especially when he is of an equable disposition, a few variations do not matter in the least. If his feet do not reach the floor, he is likely to learn where they punch the next fellow in the small of the back.

It is manifestly impossible to give favored consideration to each child in a schoolroom, but where there are any definite tendencies to symptoms of ill health, these should not be overlooked. Put the short-legged ones in the low seats and the big "leasers" in the back row. See that weak eyes do not have to face the light and where defective hearing is suspected, have that child sit directly before the teacher's desk so that he may hear all that is said.

the Uffizzi Gallery. Miniature painting in Capri then occupied her for a time.

Her interest in the Indian arts was increased with the submission of designs for the redecoration of rooms and furniture at Sherman Institute.

Research for this book was largely done at Southwest Museum, although the bureau of ethnology reports were also used.

From what she says, Mrs. Sides had her whole family reading all books bearing upon the subject. Her mother, Mrs. Frederick Robinson, prepared all the notes.

Mrs. Sides will illustrate the next Fine Arts Press publication, "What I Saw in California," by Bryan, and she is preparing now Pencil Drawing of California Missions," the annotations being by our own Terry Stephenson.

Mrs. Sides lives in Riverside where her husband is caisson superintendent upon the Los Angeles aqueduct project. She has a daughter.

Commenting upon family and career, Mrs. Sides said "I can do my work in an hour."

Here is a truly fine contribution to our culture.

Book Review Of the Week

"Gone With the Wind," Margaret Mitchell's first novel, is one of today's best sellers. It is of the old South, the state of Georgia, before, during and after the Civil war.

The story is of Scarlett O'Hara, her loves, her selfish determination to rise above the ruin of the war. She defeats herself in her own lack of intellectual depth and stability.

The impulsive young girl, who rebels against the strict conventions of the time, at first gets our sympathy. We end the book, though, condemning her for her self-centered and mean nature—hardened, it is true, by bitter experience, but narrowed rather than made more tolerant by it.

Here is a book written lightly and easily in a conversational and almost gossip style, and, although it is over one thousand pages in length, it is one of those few books that keep you up into the small hours of the morning.

eted Robineau prize of Syracuse University.

His schooling has been largely informal because he could not get what he needed from the average curriculum.

I know no contemporary craftsman whose work I appreciate more.

People who know the new materials, fully understand the old, are not "degree-minded." Hence, their inability to qualify for faculty positions in which degree is stressed.

The same system provides the "holder-of-a-degree" with many courses he is not prepared to teach.

If we are to meet the challenge of new materials, we need those who best understand them. We can not train our children to handle them when we ourselves do not understand them.

Glenn Lukens has flung the glove. When do we meet the challenge?

The Eugene Robinson's show how its done in their new flower street house. Two years of analyzing, card-cataloging the family needs, clipping of ideas they liked preceded turning the job over to an architect.

Unusual and authentic touches are seen in the shuttered dining room doors, black hardware, the random-paneled closets at the stair landing.

Gene's den opens on the patio and the living room. It's a man's room with pine panelling, an old black clock, red-bound venetian blinds.

The extension of the living room with its sloping roof provided an ordinarily wasted space. Mrs. Robinson put two deep cupboards beneath the windows there.

The result—a very charming Colonial adaptation for modern living.

New Season Brings New Fruits

By JUDITH WILSON

There is no excuse for serving the same familiar fresh fruits and vegetables day after day, for the food counters are a constantly changing panorama. Not only are there good-looking things that beg for a place in your weekly menus, but they are apt to be nutritive and inexpensive as well.

Firm, dark green bunches of broccoli, Brussels sprouts, kohlrabi, red cabbage and celery cabbage offer variety from the usual vegetables, while there is a number of kinds of squash, sweet potatoes and yams to replace potatoes on your menus occasionally. There are pumpkins already, suggestive of spicy pies and puddings and today, we discovered some of the fall crop of cranberries.

Here is an interesting menu for Sunday:

The Friday Afternoon

By DONALD BUTTON

I'm the politician now! Platiitudinously, its important, above all, to vote.

I've been propositioned on so many of the proposed amendments that I strike back.

Proposition 20 on the Nov. 3 ballot permits legislative bodies in counties and cities to enter into contracts or leases with private individuals for the management of publicly-owned museums and galleries.

The amendment does not give away public property, but turns management of museums from current politicians to those specifically interested in the furtherance of creative art. Collectors are not giving their treasures to museums when the changing political machine is in full control. Witness, the Los Angeles museum.

The proposition is endorsed by the California Taxpayer's League, State Junior Chambers of Commerce, the Los Angeles Art association.

Locally is concerns the management of the gallery we are going to have in our new library.

I'm counting on your "yes" Nov. 3rd!

Two hundred strong we gathered at Bowers Museum Sunday in honor of Dorothea Smith Sides, her new book, "The Decorative Arts of the Southwest Indians."

Thus we prove we want the museum open Sunday.

"The Decorative Arts of the Southwest Indians," Mrs. Sides says, has taken two years of preparation although the actual printing and hand-tinting of plates were done this last hot June and July here at the Fine Arts Press.

Mrs. Sides studied at the Rochester (N. Y.) Athenaeum six years, then went abroad to Florence and the Uffizzi Gallery. Miniature painting in Capri then occupied her for a time.

Her interest in the Indian arts was increased with the submission of designs for the redecoration of rooms and furniture at Sherman Institute.

Research for this book was largely done at Southwest Museum, although the bureau of ethnology reports were also used.

From what she says, Mrs. Sides had her whole family reading all books bearing upon the subject. Her mother, Mrs. Frederick Robinson, prepared all the notes.

Mrs. Sides will illustrate the next Fine Arts Press publication, "What I Saw in California," by Bryan, and she is preparing now Pencil Drawing of California Missions," the annotations being by our own Terry Stephenson.

Mrs. Sides lives in Riverside where her husband is caisson superintendent upon the Los Angeles aqueduct project. She has a daughter.

Commenting upon family and career, Mrs. Sides said "I can do my work in an hour."

Here is a truly fine contribution to our culture.

Norton and Jerome Gaston, locals, have the current painting exhibition at Bowers Memorial museum.

Their work is interesting to watch because they have only been painting two years.

Your opportunity to say what you think is given in a small book placed with the show.

Progressive education had its "out" Saturday.

Educators of the Southwest gathered at the Biltmore for particularly interesting sessions upon the creative arts.

Glenn Lukens gained most applause for his outspoken comment on the over-importation of degrees to art school faculties.

Lukens has achieved international reputation for his ceramics and glass, latest honor being the cov-

Good Pronunciation
Makes Talk Shine

Bill's thoroughly charmed. Nancy's sprightly conversation—graced by her crisp clear pronunciation—works the spell.

No matter what she's saying Nancy says it the most delightful way. If her lively young brother's on the pan, she doesn't grate: "Junior's a noisance—haRASSing me with misCHEEvious GRIMaces."

She rightly calls him a NYUsance. haRASSing with his MIS-chivus GRIMACES.

She doesn't say "Your FAYver-right COLYumnist writes about Fassist DICKtators today." She leaves the "y" sound out of columnist; says dIKTAYtor for dictator and FAYverit for favorite. For Fassist she uses the accepted American pronunciation, FASHist.

Our 32-page guide prepares you to talk on many subjects confident that your pronunciation is correct. Say without stumbling names of people and cities in the public eye. Master the cultured pronunciation that wins socially and in business.

Send 10 cents for your copy of Guide to Correct Pronunciation to The Santa Ana Journal, Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

ROTARY HEARS OF PROGRESS IN ORIENT

Chinese College Head
Says Nation Waking
Up Rapidly

Dr. James L. Ding, president of the Anglo-Chinese college, Foo Chow, China, was speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Orange Rotary club, at the American Legion hall. His topic was, "What China Is Doing for Herself."

Dr. Ding, upon his arrival in Orange, with S. B. Edwards, who served as program chairman, was discovered to have been the Cornell classmate of Vernon Shippee, Orange High school science teacher. Shippee was a guest of the club.

It has taken a long time to set China in motion, Dr. Ding stated, but she is now moving, and moving fast. During the last six years, 100,000 miles of motor roads have been constructed in China. All men between 16 and 40 years of age are forced to give six days' free labor to the government on road building.

The present situation in China is a crisis, Dr. Ding said, and the meaning of that word in Chinese is, a danger and an opportunity. He spoke briefly of the relationship between China and Japan. Japan states she must act single-handed in keeping international peace by policing China, he continued, but China peace should be maintained by all nations acting together, he said.

China has been patient, and will continue to be patient, he added, but there is a limit to patience. Before long it will be possible to mobilize an army of 50,000,000 for the defense of China, he concluded. There is a possibility of conflict, and, if it occurs, several other nations may be involved, he predicted.

POUND SHOWER HONORS MISS LEWIS

Pounds of staple foods, with which to stock her new pantry, made up the unique shower planned as a surprise pre-nuptial courtesy last night for Miss Jeanette Lewis by Mrs. Howard Renshaw of 623 Eastwood.

The party had as its setting the attractive home of Mrs. Renshaw, where 18 friends were invited for an informal evening of cotee concluding with a dainty refreshment course.

Hallowe'en colors and appointments were chosen by the hostess, who awarded prizes at the close of the playing to Miss Margaret Baker, high score holder, and Miss Marie Lewis, low.

Guests invited to honor Miss Lewis were her sister, Miss Marie Lewis, the Misses Lucille Howell, Laverne Stewart, Margaret Baker, Evelyn Sheppard, Virginia Lawrence, Minnie Bauer, Josephine Morgan, Norma Wilson, Ercy Garver, Frances Murphy, Gladys Marguerat, Lula Belle Garrett, La Donna Bogart and Alyce Boyd and Elsie Ebel, and the hostess' sister, Miss Schmitt.

This was one of a series of pretty parties being given for the charming bride-elect before her marriage Nov. 7 to Dwight Ainsworth of Orange.

BUSINESS CLUB HEARS ART TALK

Art and artists took the attention of Wyoisla Maudent members Tuesday night when Thomas E. Williams, director of the Fine Arts Press, spoke to them at their dinner meeting in the Y. W. C. A. and showed sketches and reproductions by well known artists.

Several books printed by the local press were displayed, including the plates from the portfolio, "Decorative Art of the Southwestern Indians," by Dorothy Smith Sides, and the book, "Short Ravelings from a Long Yarn," by Benjamin F. Taylor, from notes of Richard L. Wilson.

A bowery supper party is planned for the next meeting night, with Miss Carolyn Cushing in charge. The supper will be held at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

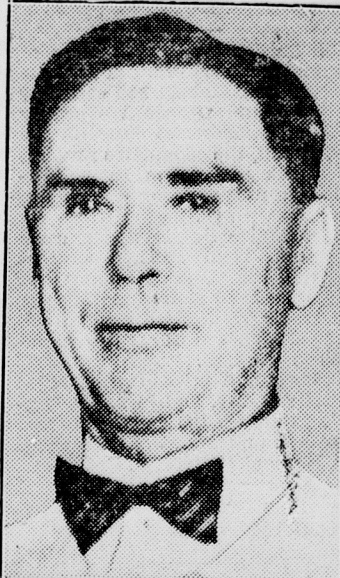

"Calico Cat" Quilt Delight To Piece

PATTERN 5707

"Pretty Pussy" may be just a Calico Cat, but he certainly makes a bright and amusing quilt motif! Make him a "calico cat," indeed, by using up your scraps; it will lend variety to the work and a gayness to your finished quilt. Dark floss outlines the features. Catlovers as well as all youngsters will be delighted with this quilt. In pattern 5707 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for a single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts, Dept., 117 East Fifth street. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

PLANE ORDER PLANNED BY BRITISH

High Speed Bombers to Be Purchased Here,
Is Report

LONDON. (AP)—The air ministry has refused to confirm or deny persistent reports that the British government is about to place American orders for high speed bombers and 1000 horsepower fighting planes.

The Royal Air Force defense strength is known to be below par because of a shortage of plant facilities and skilled workers. Manufacturers have been falling behind in their efforts to cope with the demands of the government rearmament program.

A group of aircraft designers and production managers returned recently from America with a favorable report on United States army aircraft progress. These experts were reported to have constructed several new types of bombers and pursuit planes.

Reports said secret experiments with the latest type of American fighting planes already had been carried out here, to the satisfaction of air ministry officials.

ASSEMBLY NEW BIG BOMBERS IN CANADA

OTTAWA. (AP)—The first modern fighting machines brought to Canada since the World War—two $65,000 bombers—were being assembled at Rockcliffe Airfield today.

They are the first of more than a half million dollars worth of new equipment bought in England for the Royal Canadian air force.

Five more bombers are en route to Canada. All are similar to those purchased recently by the British government. They have a maximum speed of 175 miles an hour and a cruising range of seven hours.

3 U. S. AGENCIES TO BE UNITED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Treasury officials said today they are considering to create a new and powerful law enforcement agency by welding three existing investigative units into one.

The secret service, customs agency service and the enforcement division of the alcohol tax unit would be merged into a new "treasury agency service."

This service, officials said, would make possible a unified drive against counterfeiters, smugglers and bootleggers.

They asserted that agents could move more swiftly against law violators under a single, compact agency because delay in requesting cooperation or exchanging information among the three existing organizations would be eliminated.

Dog Slayer's Trial Is Set

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Charged with killing a neighbor's dog, Jack Kay, 31, radio announcer, was free today on his own recognizance pending trial Nov. 13.

Kay pleaded innocent in court after J. A. Kletterman, police officer, testified Kay told him he had "taken care of the dog because that was the only way anybody in the neighborhood could get any rest."

Gold-Seekers in 'Tropical' Valley Victims of 'Curse'

FORT SIMPSON, Northwest Territory, Canada. (AP)—The "tropical valley" of the wild Nahanni country, reputedly rich in its store of gold, held its "curse" over prospectors today, when reports reached here another expedition failed.

The deaths of four gold seekers and the disappearance of a fifth, who have gone into the valley were unexplained. Murder was the most common theory. Also laid to the legendary "curse" were failures of every other man who sought to bring gold out of the region.

Indian legends persist that free gold extends from one end of the region to the other.

Reason for Name
The valley of Nahanni, a part of the vast Mackenzie river system, is north of the 62nd parallel, 1200 miles northwest of Edmonton, Alta. The "tropical valley" is so-called because hot springs temper the cold of the sub-Arctic region.

Pool Field, veteran northland trader, prospector and trapper, and J. H. Mulholland, left here last July for the Nahanni country, intending to enlist the aid of Indians. But the Indians, fearing the legend that death comes to any prospector who seeks to take their country's gold, refused to join the party.

Thus two more gold seekers failed.

First to die in the gold hunt were Willie and Frank McLeod, sons of a Hudson's Bay Company factor. In 1904 they went into the valley. Four years later their bleached bones were found.

More Bones Found
Phil Powers' bones were found 10 years ago, seven years after he entered the "curse" valley. A Yukon prospector's cabin was burned in 1910 after he was killed—but two discharged shotgun shells by his side were mute evidence that he fought for his life.

The last to disappear in this wild region was Angus Hall, who went in in 1929. He has not been seen since.

All who went into "tropical valley" as trappers came out safely—but the scores who went in as prospectors seeking the accursed gold either have died violently or come out empty handed.

Confesses Killing

Mrs. Ruth Moran, 21, confessed slayer of her married suitor at Kenosha, Wis., is pictured as she rested on a cot in jail after sobbing details of her life to police. She shot Herbert Winters, 42, so she could carry on an affair with a young chauffeur, she told officers. (Associated Press Photo)

H. L. BRADLEY BUYS LOCAL MARKET

H. L. Bradley, who has been in the grocery business in Orange county for many years, has purchased the market at Main and Washington streets, formerly owned by the late Guy Barp, it was announced today. The store is known as the Main Drive-In market.

Bradley has taken a long term lease on the entire building and also on a large parking lot in the rear, for convenience of patrons. He will maintain the grocery department, as groceries are his specialty. For many years he was manager of the Continental stores.

The fruit and vegetable department will be leased to Fred Walker and Ray Anderson, well known Santa Ana fruit and vegetable specialists. The meat department, Bradley said, will be one of the finest in Orange county. The Van de Kamp bakery will remain in the market.

Bradley said today he will make a number of changes in preparation for a formal opening to be staged soon. He said the market will be one of the finest and most complete in the county and will sell at competitive prices.

U. S. SETS UP SECURITY ACT PLAN

Works Out System for Collection of Tax From Employers

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The treasury gradually is perfecting arrangements to collect taxes under the old age pension section of the social security act; but the assignment of account numbers to 26,000,000 workers covered by the law has yet to begin.

The government printing office worked today on the proposed forms under which 1 per cent of the affected employees' wages and 1 per cent of the employers' payrolls will be collected for 1937. Treasury officials said the regulations and forms probably would not be approved or made public until late November or December.

Collectors in the 64 internal revenue districts are busy listing the employers. The names to date total about 2,000,000. A call to register voluntarily probably will be made.

Already spread over four Washington buildings and renting space in Baltimore for clerical work, the security board has prevailed upon the postoffice department to undertake the stupendous workers' registration task. Board officials said that with this help they can avoid building an unnecessarily large machine.

King Files New Radio Application

Request for a federal permit to construct a new special radio station has been filed in Washington by Loyal K. King of Panorama Heights. King already had an application on file for 1530 kilocycles, and the second one asked permission to use 1570 kilocycles.

The permit was filed in the name of King, doing business as the Radio and Television Research company, Los Angeles. The Associated Press reported. He asked unlimited time and power of 1000 watts.

The Fiji islands number more than 200.

Willard Junior High News

In the eighth grade electric shop class, under the direction of Mr. Hicks, Donald Liebermann and Ralph Guldage are making new handles for soldering irons and files and other articles. Billy Gordon has made a new flour scoop that is on display in the showcase in the shop building.

Lately the smell of burning wood has been coming from the shop windows. Students have completed their electric wood burning tools and are busy burning their names on many different objects.

In the ninth grade, at the present time, Jack Harper and Howard Walton are leading the class, with De Lacy Cook and Ralston Anderson close behind. The class is doing experiments and then answering questions that are put into note-books.

Did you know that it takes nine people to run the Willard cafeteria? Miss Rose Ethel Lesh, manager, states that 400 students are served each day.

Two hundred hot lunches are served at the steam tables, and the others buy from the ice cream and candy counter. Miss Lesh, however, feels that more should buy hot lunches.

The food is prepared under ideal conditions and only the best is purchased. The menu offers students each day soups, one meat, meat substitutes, two vegetables, two salads, and one or two desserts besides ice cream and candy. A plate lunch may be purchased for 7 cents, dessert not included.

Miss Lesh invites the parents to visit and have lunch any day. The hamburgers are prepared by Mrs. Wagner, the hot dishes by Mrs. Johnson, and the salads and desserts by Mrs. Rimal.

Virginia Campbell was elected president of the home representatives at their first meeting held Oct. 22, in room 211. Kieth Jones is the new vice president and Billy Lowe, secretary.

Badges were then distributed by Miss Steele to all members. She then outlined the representatives' duties which include keeping the assemblies orderly this year and assistance to the student government in keeping the grounds of Willard cleaner and more orderly than they have been in previous years.

Willard Junior High Scout troop 3 held an election of officers Oct. 7 at the home of two of their members, Betty and Claire Lee McMillen.

Miss Alberta Greene will be their leader and Natalie Neff lieutenant. Betty McMillen was elected troop treasurer and Elaine Howard, scribe.

Patrol one will be led by Sally Tierman with Sally Clark, assistant; Margaret Stearns, patrol scribe, and Dorothy Wilbur, treasurer.

Frances Jean Smith will head Patrol two and be assisted by Marjorie Metzger. Claire Lee McMillen will act as troop scribe and Marilyn Baer, treasurer.

Other members are Joy Crouse, Isabelle Reistab, Marietta Brown, Marguerite Baker, Evelyn Sullivan, Crystal Rudd and Helen Finley.

Kidnaped by Slayer

J. Levon Nell (above), 26-year-old Ogden, Utah, taxi driver, told officials he had been forced to drive Luther Jones, ex-convict, from Utah to Carlin, Nev., shortly before the holdup killing of four men at Elko, Nev., which was assertedly confessed by Jones. (Associated Press Photo)

Wood Carving Is Shown in Stores

Wood carving done by students in the Willard evening high school under William P. West was on display today in the windows of the Rankin Drygoods store and the Hugh J. Lowe clothing store on Fourth street here.

Book ends, mirror frames and a wide variety of other objects are in the exhibit. The work has been done by students who are just beginning to study wood carving. The classes meet each Tuesday at the Willard school from 3 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

SURGEONS ELECT
PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—The American College of Surgeons yesterday elected Dr. Frederic A. Besley, of Waukegan, Ill., as president. He will take office next year, succeeding Dr. Donald C. Balfour, of Rochester, Minn. Dr. Frank W. Lynch, San Francisco, was elected first vice-president, and Dr. Austin B. Schinbelen, West Vancouver, B. C., second vice-president.

CRIME'S 'BIG SHOTS' ARE GONE NOW

Former Headliners in Pen, Deceased or Merely 'Bums'

CHICAGO. (AP)—The Chicago crime commission's case reports on "public enemies" of yesteryear disclosed today the erstwhile hoodlum headliners were down to paragraphs—or less—in accounts of the day's events.

Death, violent or natural; imprisonment, flight and apparent reform had placed the designation "former" before the names of one-time beer barons, vice overlords and racketeers, said Col. Harry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the commission.

Repeal of prohibition and exploits of the Dillinger school of kidnap outlaws robbed the dry era "big shots" of crime of the spotlight, he said.

Once 28 Headliners
Six and a half years ago, in April, 1930, the commission listed 28 "public enemies" and the column's records today showed:

Nine dead, three in penitentiaries, one a fugitive from justice, 15 at liberty with no charges against them.

Al Capone, of course, was the No. 1 man. He went to Alcatraz penitentiary as an income tax dodger and the government gave notice only this week it would sell his big villa at Miami Beach, Fla., to satisfy a $51,498 federal tax lien filed against his wife.

Bugs Humiliated
George (Bugs) Moran's gang from the north side used to war furiously with the Capones over bootleg "rights" and both made tall headlines on St. Valentine's day, 1929, when seven of Moran's boys were lined up in a garage and chopped down with machine guns.

The police humiliated Bugs the other day by picking him up on general suspicion. It made no headlines and the case was dismissed. He said he was operating a coal mine now at Morris, Ill.

Other sources said the government was investigating his income.

Edward (Spike) O'Donnell's Chicago bungalow was sold on foreclosure this week to the H. O. L. C. because he owes $9,183. That was pin money in his prohibition hey-day on the south side.

Louise Thaden
Quits U. S. Job
WASHINGTON. (AP)—Officials of the air commerce bureau announced Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden, with the bureau for about a year as an air-marking pilot, had resigned, effective Nov. 1, to accept a position with a Wichita, Kan., air craft company. Mrs. Thaden, recent winner of the $15,000 Bendix race from New York to Los Angeles, is from Bentonville, Ark.

'Prince' Visits Old Home Town

HILLSBORO, Ill. (AP)—"Prince Mike Romanoff" reigned his old home town today with his exploits and announced he is toying with the idea of heading for Hollywood—"I know everyone there"—and making a picture or so.

The prince, Hillsboro remembers him as Harry Gerguson, an orphan farm boy—drove into town this week.

Retail Stores' Business Better

ST. LOUIS. (AP)—Thirty-nine of 42 cities, representing 12,614 retail stores, reported September increases in collections and credit sales over the same month last year, the research division of the National Retail Credit association announced. The average gain in collections for all cities reporting trends was 7 per cent and 13 per cent in credit sales.

Wife of S. P. Board Chairman Dies

CHICAGO. (AP)—Mrs. Hale Holden, wife of the chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific railroad, died at her home here yesterday after several years of ill health.

The former Eleanor Weston of Dalton, Mass., Mrs. Holden was well known in Pasadena, Calif., and New York.

Scientists advise sparing use of red and yellow in home decoration. Both colors affect the nervous system unduly and are hardest on the human eye.

Comfort Costly In Lawmaking, Is Legislator's Idea

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The way to trim governmental costs, said State Representative W. F. Haycock, is to take some of the comfort out of law making.

Accordingly he proposed the removal of seats from the legislative chamber, forcing members to work standing up. "This will promote short sessions, as only those devoted to duty would stick to the job," he averred.

SEAFARERS STILL CLOSE DOCK DISPUTE

37,000 Coast Maritime Workers Are Set for Strike Wednesday

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Pay increase and other demands of seafaring unions today became the major issue in the threatened strike of 37,000 Pacific coast maritime workers next Wednesday.

Employers offered to extend all working agreements for one year but added, in a communication to Admiral H. G. Hamlet as representative of the United States maritime commission:

"We cannot agree, as a condition to the general renewal of the longshore and checkers awards and agreements that the various conditions demanded by the seafaring unions be granted."

Bridges Replies
Replying for the International Longshoremen's association, Harry Bridges, coast president, denied the L. A. had informed the employers it would be willing to renew present agreements for another year.

He charged the employers' offer meant "they are perfectly willing to continue the wages of seafaring men at $2 a day, unsanitary and pig pen quarters, hours from 10 to 16 a day . . . And a system of hiring that would permit the shipowners to blackball anyone who protested the conditions."

Ryan's Demands
Bridges also disclosed an exchange of telegrams with Joseph P. Ryan, international president of the longshoremen, in which the latter urged an increase in pay from 95 cents to $1 an hour straight time and from $1.40 to $1.50 overtime for dock workers.

In his reply, Bridges said the I. L. A. was still demanding the higher pay and asserted:

"Any agreement reached between I. L. A. and employers here would be useless unless provisions are made to protect the I. L. A. in event marine unions strike Oct. 28, as they undoubtedly will unless certain guarantees protecting their fundamental issues are given them before that date."

LEPERS STAY IN HOSPITAL UNGUARDED

System at Institution In Louisiana Told at Health Meet

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—A person with leprosy can go anonymously to Leper Hospital at Carville, La., change his name while there and, if cured, leave the place to resume his real identity, his experience never to be known outside of the hospital's records.

This hospital, its records, run-aways and apparent cures, were described to the American Public Health Association here by the institution's medical director, Dr. H. E. Hasseltine.

"Many people have the erroneous belief," he said, "that we maintain a strong guard and an unclimbable fence around the reservation. There is no armed guard. There is a fence, mainly to keep livestock outside."

"A goodly portion of our absconders return voluntarily, and many report that the hospital at Carville is preferable to living elsewhere in this cruel world."

From 1894 to 1921 this hospital was the Louisiana leper's home. In 1921 the federal government took it over, changing the name to the U. S. Marine Hospital.

Since the beginning, 1,130 lepers have been sent, or gone voluntarily to Carville. The inmates are from 37 states. Four states have each furnished more than 100. These are Louisiana, 507, California, 158, Texas, 121, and New York, 101.

Since 1921, 196 lepers have been paroled, apparently well. Thirty others, also apparently cured, remained voluntarily.

Of those sent out apparently well, Dr. Hasseltine said, 23 have returned with active leprosy.

Since 1921, 235 have run away. Eighty-five of these are recorded as still "out," Dr. Hasseltine said, although it is known that some of them have died.

Woman Walks Off Into Desert

PALM SPRINGS, (AP)—Searching parties were organized here today for Mrs. Nettie Janette Stice, 29, who disappeared after walking into the desert yesterday noon.

Sheriff Carl Rayburn reported the woman quarreled with her husband, and left their home, facing the desert. A young son and a daughter of the husband by a former marriage followed the woman into the desert, but were sent home by Mrs. Stice as she continued into the wilderness.

The husband waited several hours before notifying police, believing his wife would return.

Pair's Death Leap Fatal for One

SEATTLE, (AP)—Mrs. P. M. Manning of Los Angeles was in a critical condition in the King county hospital today as the result of a three-story leap from a hotel window here last night which killed her husband.

Coroner's Deputies B. T. Hallgrimson and Ferris Walkley said the couple, each about 25 years of age, jumped together in an apparent suicide attempt. They registered at the hotel from Los Angeles Oct. 18.

'Buddy' Rogers Settling Down

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Charles "Buddy" Rogers is going to settle down in Hollywood.

He has reopened his home in Beverly Hills, signed a movie contract with Columbia studios and, for the time being, finished with globe trotting. His friends interpret this newest move as a sure sign that he and Mary Pickford will soon be man and wife.

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—A petition asking removal of Samuel L. Carpenter, jr., as conservator for the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company was under scrutiny of Superior Judge Henry M. Willis today.

Rattlesnake Is 'Rocked to Death' By Rocking Chair

WALTERBORO, S. C. (AP)—Mrs. Lily Williams felt a bump, heard the rocker of her chair crunch as she rocked in placid conversation with a neighbor.

It was dark and she didn't bother to investigate.

But next morning she found a dead rattlesnake on the porch floor, its head crushed.
